Mrs. Waley Is Given Sentence of Twenty Years At Tacoma

Judge Orders Her Term For Share in Weyerhaeuser Kidnapping Is to Be Served at Detention Farm at Milan, Michigan

No Statement Is Made By Woman

Tacoma, Wash., July 17.—Mrs. Margaret Thulin Waley, nineteen, convicted in the George Weyerhaeuser kidnap case last Saturday, was sentenced by U.S. District Judge E. E. Cushman to-day to serve twenty years at the federal detention farm at Milan, Mich.

She will be eligible for parole after serving one-third of her sentence.

Judge Cushman denied her motions for an arrest of judgment and a new trial after overruling the government's objections to the motions being filed more than three days after her conviction.

Chief Defence Counsel John F. Dore submitted his motions without any more argument than he had made during the trial last week.

NO STATEMENT

Mrs. Waley showed no outward sign of emotion when called to the bar for sentencing. She stood mute when Judge Cushman asked her if she had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced.

Neither the government nor defence attorneys made any recommendations about the sentence.

Mrs. Waley had tried twice to plead guilty to the Lindbergh law conspiracy and kidnapping counts under which she and her husband, Harold M. Waley, and their fugitive co-defendants, William Dalnord, alias Mahan, were indicted. She said Saturday she was satisfied with the conviction verdict, and U.S. Marshal A. J. Chitty said she told him before the jury came in that she hoped "that jury won't acquit me."

Her husband pleaded guilty during their arguments last month and Judge Cushman sentenced him to forty-five years in prison. Waley has started his sentence at the McNeil Island federal prison near here.

SEARCH PRESSED

Federal Department of Justice agents are pressing their search for Dalnord with renewed vigor. He was last seen June 8 at Butte, Mont., when he abandoned an automobile and $15,155 of the $200,000 ransom, with which Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Weyerhaeuser brought back their nine-year-old son the night of May 30.

George was abducted at noon May 24 on his way home from school for lunch and was released in woods near Issaquah, Wash., the morning of June 1.

The Waleys were captured in Salt Lake City, June 6, when Waley tried to pass a $5 ransom bill to buy a twenty-cent cigarette case as a birthday gift to her father, George Thulin.

Mrs. Waley was in good spirits to-day when brought from the city jail with other federal prisoners. She smiled a greeting at newspaper men on her walk from the jail to the federal building.

Three Aviators Ask Permission to Go By Way of Vancouver on Moscow-North Pole-San Francisco Journey

Canadian Press

Moscow, July 17.—Three Soviet aviators to-day sought permission to cross Canadian territory before starting a projected non-stop distance record flight from Moscow to San Francisco by way of the North Pole and Canada's Northwest Territories.

The fliers, led by Pilot Sigmund Levensteyn, will use a single-motored plane in their attempt to reach the United States Pacific Coast city via Banks Land in the western Canadian Arctic archipelago, Fort Simpson, on the Mackenzie River, and Vancouver. Levensteyn's companions will be Co-pilot Balubokoff and Navigator Levensteyn.

The United States already has given consent for the flight and Russian authorities have asked similar leave of Great Britain, presumably because Canada has no direct diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union.

MONTREAL M.P. PASSES AWAY

Joseph A. Mercier, K.C., Succumbs at Liberal Club Meeting

Canadian Press

Montreal, July 17.—Resuming his seat on the platform after addressing an organization meeting of the Laurier-Outremont Liberal club, Joseph A. Mercier, K.C., sixty, Liberal member of Parliament for Laurier-Outremont, suddenly collapsed and died almost instantly here yesterday evening. A doctor said death was due to a heart attack.

Mr. Mercier fell backward in his chair while his partner in law, D. L. Desbois, K.C., was addressing the meeting. He had just taken his seat amid applause for his address.

In 1923 he was first elected to Parliament as Liberal representative for Laurier-Outremont. He was re-elected in 1926 and 1930, on both occasions his opponents losing their deposits.

Laurier-Outremont is a large section of Northeastern Montreal.

No Relief Is Given Strikers

Groups of 150 Men Who Left Camps at Hope Reach Vancouver

Canadian Press

Vancouver, July 17.—Approximately 150 relief camp men who went on strike at four camps near Hope, eighty miles east of here, arrived in Vancouver to-day by freight train.

When the men declined to work, camp authorities issued an ultimatum that they must work or leave the camp. Some fifty British Columbia police were sent to the camps to enforce the ruling.

There was no trouble. The men continued to decline to work and were taken in trucks to Hope, where they caught a freight. Each man was given sixty cents on leaving the camps.

Net Value of Estate of Murdered Architect Dwindles to $2,610

Will of F. M. Rattenbury, architect of the British Columbia Parliament Buildings, Empire Hotel, Union Club and other buildings here, who was murdered on March 28 last at Bournemouth, England, has been passed here by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald of the Supreme Court.

Letters of administration with will annexed were issued by the High Court of Justice, London, recently and because of the British Columbia property, the will was brought up here this week for resealing and taxing the estate under the British Columbia succession duty laws.

Although the estate was set out as having a total value of $33,277, composed of $31,275 within British Columbia and $2,002 elsewhere, it was finally passed as having an actual net value of only $262 94. 10d.

MADE IN 1929

In the will, which was made in Victoria in 1929 before he left to reside in England, Mr. Rattenbury left all his jewelry, personal trinkets and an income of $350 a month to his second wife, Alma Victoria Rattenbury.

NEW HOPE IN CANCER FIGHT

Dr. H. C. Connell, Kingston, Ont., Discovers "Ensol"; Others Await Proof

Canadian Press

Kingston, Ont., July 17.—Discovery of a new series of biological products which he calls "ensols," one of which has arrested development of carcinoma cancer and may control it, was announced to-day by Dr. Henry C. Connell of Kingston from his laboratory at Queen's University.

The "ensol" solution is injected into the bloodstream, as it can reach all parts of the body.

Dr. Connell, forty-year-old specialist in diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat, said he realized his announcement might be regarded as premature, but his laboratory findings were positive and conclusive and early clinical effects uniform and remarkable.

Dr. Connell's "ensols" are produced by growing harmless tiny organisms in protein media, which are liquefied in the process. These micro-organisms are non-pathogenic, or non-disease-causing, and of the proteolytic type, which produce cleavage of proteins with formations of simple and soluble products.

BREAKS DOWN TISSUE

In the liquid produced is an active substance which can be separated from the other constituents and made sterile. This has the power of liquefying protein similar to the base, but has no effect on protein of other types. Thus, "ensol" produced in this way from lens protein will break down cataractous "lens" tissue, but does not affect other proteins.

So also, said Dr. Connell, "ensol" produced from carcinoma base has a specific action on carcinoma tissue — demonstrated in repeated laboratory tests. "Ensol" produced from carcinoma is being used on patients with carcinoma pronounced incurable. No inflammatory reaction occurs — there is "remission" and immediate improvement in the patient's general condition; apparently the growth of the carcinoma is arrested and the process reversed to one of retrogression.

Manitoba Trekkers Arrive In Kenora

First Contingent of 240 From Winnipeg Are Fed in Ontario Town; Second Group of 120 Leaves Winnipeg

Canadian Press

Kenora, Ont., July 17.—Manitoba's contingent of relief camp strikers, 240 strong, entered Kenora this afternoon, completing a thirty-five-mile trek from the Manitoba border.

Military discipline of the relief battalion was well maintained. The men trudged along the main street in a downpour of rain, but kept to the column four abreast.

First they went to local restaurants for a meal, bought with money the strikers collected Saturday in Winnipeg during day camp operations. Strikers leaders figured about half of their $2,000 collected then was still left.

As the strikers passed through a rock cut on the highway six miles from Kenora a collection was taken up from a road gang and $13.50 was realized.

After their meal, the trekkers marched directly to the Tabernacle Baptist Church. Rev. G. F. Watts met the men and stated arrangements had been made to feed the men to-night in the United Church here. The meal is being provided by the Ministerial Association of Kenora. It was understood three meals would be provided the strikers at the church.

NO CIVIC AID

Mayor T. McCallan of Kenora to-day said no aid would be given the Manitoba relief camp strikers nor would the men be provided with shelter.

There was no law regarding the stay of transients in Kenora, he said, and the strikers would be treated the same as any other transients.

Co-operation To Avert Italian-Ethiopian Fight Now Urged By London

TRIBESMEN RIDE TO DEFENCE OF ETHIOPIA

While the most highly trained sections of Ethiopia's forces have machine guns, automatic rifles and other modern equipment, many of those rallying to the call of Emperor Haile Selassie emerge from remote parts of the country with primitive weapons, as the above picture indicates. As quickly as possible they are given training while Italy continues to pour troops into the adjoining Italian colonies.

Some Political Observers in Britain Predict U.S. Will Send Observer to League of Nations Council Session Next Week

British Troops At Ethiopia Border

Canadian Press from Havas

London, July 17.—Great Britain is sounding out the United States government on possibility of support in preventing an Italo-Ethiopian war, it was understood here to-night.

Some political circles predicted Washington would assign an observer to the Italo-Ethiopian session of the League of Nations Council, which would indicate a semi-official, if not a full formal American move to forestall hostilities.

Washington is seen here as considering itself juridically unconcerned in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute, but the British government is understood to be urging all possible United States co-operation to prevent a war.

Canadian Press and Associated Press

London, July 17.—Malcolm MacDonald, Colonial Secretary told the House of Commons to-day that Great Britain's military forces in Kenya, which borders on both Ethiopia and Italian Somaliland, have been partially redistributed in view of the possible contingencies on the frontier.

Mr. MacDonald said it was "undesired unnecessary to reinforce them," however, for the present.

He said the government was "in consultation" with the acting Governor of Kenya and was keeping a watch on developments.

His statement was in reply to a question from the floor of the House concerning the British government's steps to protect the Kenya border in the event of hostilities in Ethiopia.

SHIPMENT OF ARMS

Usually well-informed quarters hinted to-day the government may soon permit "legitimate" shipment of arms to Ethiopia, following receipt of communications from Emperor Haile Selassie of the African empire.

It was said the emperor had sent official documents from Addis Ababa, attesting his empire's need of two arms shipments held up here by the government.

ROBOT PLANE IS SHOT DOWN

New British Anti-aircraft Gun Proves Success As King George Looks On

Canadian Press and Associated Press

Portsmouth, Eng., July 17.—A new type anti-aircraft gun on the battleship Rodney to-day brought down one of the new "Queen Bee" pilotless robot planes, in battle manoeuvres staged by the combined home and Mediterranean fleets in the English Channel for King George.

Shells from the Rodney struck the plane's wing and sent it into the water. Another of the robot planes, just devised for actual battle practice, crashed shortly after being catapulted from a cruiser, but was not hit.

After watching the early stages from the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, the King returned to Portsmouth and entrained for London. He had left the fleet to sea early to-day.

Adherents of the war theory that airplanes can cope with battleships in battle had the satisfaction of seeing the "Queen Bee" actually pass over the Rodney, despite being hit by a half of shells, before being brought down.

Bisley Camp, Eng., July 17.—The Canadians came to the front as real "warfare" opened at Bisley Camp to-day when Sgt. M. Penman, Montreal, captured the bronze score for leadership in the first stage of the King's Prize.

Penman making his first trip to Bisley, had perfect scores at 200 yards and 500 yards and lost only a point in the 600-yard distance to wind up with a great score of 104 out of 105, equalling the record for the shoot. Manitoba Trekkers Arrive In Kenora

For the most part such men have been asked to stay here only two days.

Detachments of Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Ontario provincial police and railway police are gathered here.

SECOND CONTINGENT

Winnipeg, July 17.—In five buses, chartered for the purpose, the final contingent of relief camp strikers which had been encamped at the Exhibition Grounds here, left Winnipeg today for Kenora. There are 120 men in this party.

The strikers left their luggage behind, and this will follow later by truck, strike leaders said.

Several police officers watched the men depart but made no attempt to stop them.

These men are following the 240 who left a couple of days ago and walked in to Kenora this afternoon.

ADVANCE PARTY

Toronto, July 17.—The Toronto contingent of "On-to-Ottawa" marchers, estimated at more than 2,000, was underway here today on the first lap of a 247-mile trip to the Dominion capital. An advance party of cyclists left at noon to arrange an overnight halting place.

Shouldering packs, the men assembled at Queen's Park, where marching instructions were given out by leaders. Accompanying the men on the long hike is a squad of twenty-five qualified first aid men.

A number of women were also noted marching in the parade as it tilted through city streets, but whether they intend to accompany the marchers could not be determined.

The parade was escorted to the city limits by Toronto police, where marchers were met by provincial motorcycle officers.

AT TORONTO

Toronto, July 17 (Canadian Press).—Unable to raise bail, fourteen "On-to-Ottawa" trekkers were remanded in custody in court here today to face trial, after their arrest yesterday on charges of soliciting for funds and vagrancy. Bail for four charges with surety was set at $500 each, while bail for ten charges with soliciting funds for the march was set at $100 each.

In parade formation, "On-to-Ottawa" marchers were scheduled to begin their trek here today. They were to be escorted by provincial police, while city forces will escort the marchers through Toronto.

HELD FOR TRIAL

Montreal, July 17 (Canadian Press).—Approximately thirty-five alleged Montreal "On-to-Ottawa" unemployed marchers were gathered into the net spread by Quebec provincial police overnight at points between here and Ottawa, officials reported today. They will be arraigned on charges of vagrancy.

EVANS PREPARES DEFENCE

Regina, July 17.—Arthur Evans, strike leader in fall here until his case comes up in September, has been permitted the use of a typewriter and stationery by the Attorney-General to prepare his own defence.

Provincial police are returning to Vancouver from Hope, where they were sent yesterday in anticipation of disturbances arising out of a relief camp strike in that vicinity, it was stated today. A total of 182 men left camp, twenty-one of these going east and 151 starting for Vancouver.

FROM PETAUAWA

Ottawa, July 17 (Canadian Press).—Vanguard of thirty relief camp strikers from the Petawawa camp near Pembroke, Ont., arrived here today by freight train. No railway or other police were sighted, their leader, Alfred Vince, stated.

There was no strike at the camp, where 1,500 workers are quartered, the men reported. A large number of the men, however, were ready to join the "On-to-Ottawa" marchers and the advance guard had made the trip to make preparations for the arrival of the main guard at a later date.

HOME-SCHOOL PLANS HEARD

Sixteen-point National Programme Offered at Convention in Vancouver

Canadian Press

Vancouver, July 17.—The Canadian Home and School Federation convention had presented to it today a sixteen-point plan for a national programme, previously adopted by the British Columbia Parent-Teacher Federation and read by Prof. William Black of the University of British Columbia.

The report included statements on general standards of living, educational and other social services; general political and economic issues. Free education to the age of eighteen, establishment of a course of economics in high schools, vocational guidance, expansion of municipal and provincial health services, and in "the tremendous burden of the necessary government structure," "less of party politics," creation of a federal economic council and higher income taxes, were some of the steps proposed.

Russian Airplane May Fly Over B.C.

The brief official communiqué yesterday announcing the flight gave little detail, but it appeared the plane intended to follow the 130th meridian, passing between Spitbergen and Franz Josef Land, thence across the Pole to northern Canada and southward to Vancouver and on to San Francisco.

Zemafsky is one of his country's most noted pilots. He gained international attention in 1928 when he flew to the rescue of Jimmy Mattern, United States pilot who was wrecked near Anadir on an attempted round-the-world flight. The Russian found him and took him to Alaska.

The Russian flight, about 6,000 miles long, would, if successful, set the non-stop distance record of 5,653 miles held by Paul Godes and Maurice Roest of France.

CONSENT EXPECTED

Ottawa, July 17 (Canadian Press).—Application for permission to fly over Canadian territory has not yet been received from the Soviet government, it was learned here today. Dispatches from Moscow said three Soviet airplanes were waiting that permission before starting on a flight from Moscow to San Francisco by way of the North Pole and the Northwest Territories of Canada.

Government officials said it had been "customary in the past to grant such consent."

NEW HOPE IN CANCER FIGHT

RELUCTANT TO SPEAK

Dr. Connell said detailed reports of his work were under review and would be published in a scientific journal as soon as possible. His announcement today was made with some reluctance, but because of many rumors concerning patients under treatment and other features of the work, it was considered advisable to make known just what has been done and the present position of the research.

START OF RESEARCH

Four years ago Dr. Connell began research on cancer. His original ideas were "aged into a new conception of the nature of cancer. He was led into new paths. Seeking a substance which would break down lens protein into soluble substances, he began to use harmless micro-organisms and was surprised at the results. He demonstrated the specific character of lens "enol" in breaking down lens protein. This led to other diseases, and particularly to the various forms of cancer.

The principal treatment is said to be applicable to all forms of neoplasms, or morbid growths such as fibroids, for a laboratory test on a hard fibroid tumor proved it could be liquefied and dissolved by action of similar micro-organisms.

Dr. Bertam Holmgren, technician in the department of bacteriology at Queen's University, has been assisting with the investigation.

Dr. Charles Mundell has given valuable services in obtaining cancer material, in making biopsies and in caring for patients under treatment.

Dr. Charles Elliott has an important case under his care.

NO FEES ACCEPTED

So far no charge has been made for the remedy supplied and no fees accepted for services.

If there is criticism that the announcement is premature and that a greater mass of evidence should be collected, it may be answered, said Dr. Connell, that there can be no doubt of the fundamental nature of the discovery and that it can be put fully to the test only by applying it to all sorts of cases. This can be done only when the discovery is made generally known. Dr. Connell himself has borne almost the entire expense of this research.

TESTS WITH MICE

Mice infected with carcinoma are used in the laboratory to demonstrate the action of "mouse enol." Case histories are kept of treated and untreated controls, with biopsies and micro-photographs showing cell structure in treated and untreated cases. Profound changes are produced in the tumor mass within a few days after use of "enol" and it is suggested the "enol" may act as a catalyst since the cell structure changes are out of proportion to the amount used.

Dr. Connell's present need is a constant supply of fresh cancer tissue to continue his investigations and to keep on hand "enol" solutions. With his announcement, he appealed to surgeons to send cancer tissues at their disposal.

CLOSE OBSERVATION

The "enol" discoverer said all cases treated for the present must be under his immediate supervision, first for accurate diagnosis, then for observation during the course of treatment, and to insure the records will be kept, radiograms made and results noted and reported. He will welcome any inspection, investigation and criticism that may assist him. Professional ethics, he said, will be rigidly observed, but he hopes any credit due will be given him and his technician.

WORKS WITH FATHER

Dr. Connell is a native of Kingston and a graduate of Queen's University. He has been associated for the last fifteen years with his father, Dr. J. C. Connell, a veteran specialist in diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat, who for years was dean of Queen's Medical College.

The son served for a year and a half as a Canadian military hospital at Vladivostok, where many cases of syphilis were treated.

Dr. E. E. Young, provincial health officer today issued the following statement in Victoria in connection with Dr. Henry Connell's announcement at Kingston:

"In reference to the dispatch which outlines the supposedly good results from the use of a substance for the present called 'enol' in treatment of cancer or other growths, I may say Dr. Connell's standing in the profession is such that we know his statements must be received with respect."

"At the same time, before definite statements are made, a long series of experiments must be carried out by different investigators in order to confirm the hopes of Dr. Connell."

"Publicity given to steps of advancement in medical matters are unfortunately often seized on as a statement that a cure has been found. Consequently the public are unintentionally deceived and accept these statements of progress being made as accomplished fact."

"The names of the patients mentioned in this article are such as to attract the attention of the profession in general. These men are among the authorities on special work and their standing in the profession is such as to lead us at least to hope they have opened a line of research which may result finally in effecting an advance in medical science."

TIME PROOF NEEDED

Toronto, July 17.—"Biochemistry may ultimately be an important factor in the solution of the cancer problem," Dr. W. J. Bell, Ontario Deputy Minister of Health, said today when questioned concerning the discovery announced by Dr. Henry C. Connell of Kingston, Ont., of a new series of biological products he calls "enol."

One of which has been developed as a carcinoma cancer and may control it.

Necessity for tests over a long period of time was stressed by Dr. W. L. Robinson, University of Toronto pathologist.

ILLNESS TAKES TOLL

Reuter dispatches to London today said health and sickness were taking a heavy toll of the Italian forces now in east Africa, while a report from Rome to the Paris newspaper Le Jour claimed it was certain 11 Duce would shortly fly to east Africa personally to inspect his military preparations.

ETHIOPIAN MOBILIZATION

Associated Press

Addis Ababa, July 17.—A declaration of a general mobilization of Ethiopian warriors was expected by authorities here today to be issued by Emperor Haile Selassie tomorrow when he addresses parliament.

Belief the mobilization order would be issued spread as the Foreign Ministry announced the Ethiopian Minister to France had been instructed to adhere to the international Red Cross convention.

Defensive military preparations also became increasingly apparent.

Organization of an Ethiopian national Red Cross began while categories drilling was being undertaken eagerly by all classes of people. Streets and squares were being used day and night, even government departments going on part-time work to permit the drilling.

The elaborate chatter of machine guns and the boom of artillery were heard as troops plunged into practice manoeuvres.

The commands given to the troops were not divulged, nor was any information available as to the number of soldiers.

ITALY'S AIR MOVES

Rome, July 17.—The national aviation service disclosed today plans to supply Italy's colonial forces with some 500 planes, threatening large-scale aerial warfare against Ethiopia.

The air service plunged into the project, assigned to overcome the obstacle of Ethiopia's desert lands and mountain citadels, after an advance guard of eighty pilots and twenty-four planes had sailed for East Africa.

General Giuseppe Valle, Under-Secretary for Air, who had farewell to this contingent at Naples, indicated he personally would take the major force to the colonies soon.

TROOPS AT PORTS

Regiment on regiment of blackshirt troops also marched to embarkation points. Other masses of recruits poured into training cantonments in response to Premier Benito Mussolini's orders for continual replacement of reserve forces.

Il Duce, admitting openly that Italy's cause in East Africa has not been properly understood in some parts of the world, was insistent that Roman justice—and only Roman justice—should be employed to settle the issue.

ETHIOPIA'S WEALTH

Rome, July 17 (Associated Press).—As Italy's army masses in East Africa, the semi-official publication L'Asione Coloniale (Colonial Action) calls Ethiopia a land of tremendous wealth, ripe for development by the "civilizing work of the Europeans."

The Asione Coloniale has found in a survey of Ethiopia's potential wealth these resources:

Rich pastures for innumerable herds; fertile land suitable to the cultivation of wheat, oats, flax, bananas, cotton and coffee; forests, gold, platinum, mica, coal, cinnabar,

BROKER FACES THEFT CHARGE

D. S. Paterson Appears Before Toronto Magistrate; Bail Is $25,000

Canadian Press

Toronto, July 17.—Donald S. Paterson, stock broker, charged with theft before Magistrate J. E. Jones in police court today, was remanded till July 26 on bail of $25,000. Bail was provided by J. A. Wilson and S. W. Purdy.

Paterson, former head of the Dominion-wide brokerage house which bore his name, was arrested yesterday on a charge of theft involving $1,000. Harry Long, Peterborough, complainant, charges the theft took place this year. The warrant alleges theft of cash and securities.

J. M. Godfrey, K.C., Ontario securities commissioner, said the arrest followed three weeks of investigation by the commission. A few days ago, he said, the license of the Mid-Canada Exploration Company was cancelled.

PREMIER LYONS MET CRISIS and then in the Federal Parliament, continuously ever since.

ENDURING QUALITIES

The two qualities which endear Mr. Lyons to the Australian public are a simplicity which high office has failed to change and an honesty which has never been impugned.

It was this honesty, observers say, which caused him to break with the Labor government in which he was postmaster-general in 1931. Australia in those days was at a crossroads and within the caucus of his party was a strong section clamoring for inflation.

He saw where inflation would end, feared starve, ruin for the country.

For this reason he relinquished his office and embarked on a crusade to unite anti-extremist forces. This he accomplished with himself as leader and when the Scullin government, of which he had been a member, was defeated in 1932, he found himself leader of a party with an overwhelming majority in the Federal House of Representatives. It was the United Australia Party.

The first task he undertook was the subject of the Lang Government of New South Wales, then pursuing a reckless course, defaulting on interest payments and launching legislation of revolutionary character. Capital was fleeing from that party of the country in panic.

STRONG ACTION

After a legislative battle, which involved the forcing of New South Wales to meet its obligations and eventually the seizure by the Lyons government of tax revenue in the state to make good debt defaults, Lang was eventually dismissed from office by the governor, Sir Philip Game.

That the people of Australia approved the course taken by Premier Lyons was shown when they returned him to the polls last year. The first government of any importance in the world that was returned for a second period during the depression.

High tributes are paid to Premier Lyons' quality of leadership and his ability to weld warring factions together. This was demonstrated when, as Premier of Tasmania, he gained support not only of his own party, but a section of the opposition as well in straightening out a difficult financial mess. He was equally able to keep antagonistic factions of the United Australia Party working together and his present cabinet is composed of men who only a few years ago were at one another's throats politically speaking.

In rehabilitating Australian finances, Premier Lyons received the applause of the world. He started with

LEAGUE SESSIONS

Geneva, July 17 (Associated Press).—The League of Nations announced today it is preparing to convene the Council about July 25 to deal with the Italo-Ethiopian crisis, considering that little hope remains for revival of arbitration.

This sort of thing pleased the English money markets and Australia was able to put through conversions saving it $5,000,000 a year and the budgetary deficit is expected to change this year into a substantial surplus.

The re-established finances of Australia make it a great potential market for North American countries.

It was not divulged what Premier Lyons and President Roosevelt talked about, but reciprocal trade treaty was suggested.

At Ottawa also he talked trade, and in this respect British Columbia is intensely interested.

bury, who recently committed suicide following her acquittal of the murder charge at the trial at which George Stoner, her young chauffeur, was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged, later to be reprieved.

After her death, the estate was to go to his second family by her, Christopher Compton Pakenham Rattenbury and John Rattenbury.

Mr. Rattenbury provided that if the income of the estate during the life of his wife did not come up to $350 a month, enough was to be taken from the capital to bring it up to $4,200 a year for her to live on. However, probate officials today found that the total net value of the estate, $2,510, was less than the specified income for one year.

Administration of the estate has been placed in the hands of the Royal Trust Company, named executors in the will.

ASSETS

The assets included a total of $7,070 of principal and unpaid interest owing by a number of Victoria residents on mortgages and agreements for sale on various pieces of Vancouver Island property, some of the estates running back many years.

There was listed $1,750 cash in the bank in London, $211.36 in the Oak Bay branch of the Bank of Montreal, $881 in household goods and furniture, $480.25 of personal clothing and effects, and the Rattenbury motor car in England valued at $75.

The Rattenbury securities portfolio showed 199 shares Melrose Company of Victoria preferred and 1,087 shares of Melrose Company ordinary stock, both together of a nominal value of $10,000; 400 shares of Dominion Steel and Coal, nominal value $1,500; $3,000 Point Grey Bonds, $6,000 Vancouver City bonds, $700 Burrard Drydock Company bonds, and $2,500 Union Club bonds, now valued at $25.

The club bonds and income value of some of the securities was written down to nothing by the government valuator, while even such marketable assets as the Vancouver bonds had one-third cut from their face value.

LIABILITIES

Among the liabilities were bills owing to Bournemouth and other English shopkeepers, doctors and others furnishing general living services and supplies to the Rattenbury home.

These bills, covering sheets of paper in the documents, totalled $4,194.66. They were all ordered paid out of the first realizable assets of the estate.

SLOT MACHINES FOR PARKING

Oklahoma City Introduces Meter System Amidst Protests From Motorists

Oklahoma City, July 17.—Nickel-in-the-slot parking was being carried on in Oklahoma City to-day though it had precipitated an uproar when introduced yesterday.

Two hundred of the meters, invented by Carl Magee, attorney and publisher, were installed downtown Monday night. Several hours after the public had begun trying them yesterday, the city council approved a contract with Magee.

Opponents of the plan, holding that parking space on the downtown streets should remain free, set out to test the issue into court. They got nowhere. Police would not arrest violators.

"We are not arresting anybody until the public can get accustomed to the new system," said John Watt, police chief.

FLAGS ON METERS

This is how the meters work: A motorist drives his car into the space blocked off with white lines along the curb. When he deposits a nickel in the meter, set at the edge of the curb, a flag flies up, indicating the meter has been "paid."

Then a hand starts moving slowly across a graduated scale. When it indicates the hour is up, the flag drops. Policemen may "tag" the car for being in the space without its rent paid.

This is the first city where the meters have been tried. Magee invented the device in the course of a traffic study for the Chamber of Commerce.

Before coming here as editor of The Oklahoma News several years ago, Magee gained prominence as an editor in New Mexico, in pursuing the investigation that led to the Teapot Dome oil reserve scandal. Magee left The News last year. He now publishes a weekly newspaper.

Liberal Candidate Chosen in Algoma

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., July 17.—Col. Harry S. Hamilton has been declared official Liberal candidate in the West Algoma federal riding, according to an announcement. Col. Hamilton has been endorsed by both the Dominion and Provincial Liberal Associations, as well as by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, at the announcement.

A four-corner contest in the riding appears certain as, following the announcement, Albert R. Wood, another Liberal candidate in the riding, announced he would remain in the race. S. E. V. McMillan has been named Conservative standard-bearer in the riding.

The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation has called a convention for Monday, July 22, to name a candidate.

HIGHER PAY FOR CIVIL SERVANTS

Canadian Press

Ottawa, July 17.—Restoration of statutory increases for civil servants, partially retroactive, was approved yesterday by the cabinet in an order which also cancelled restrictions respecting permanent appointments and promotions in effect since 1932. The order was based on an appropriation of $1,000,000 approved in the supplementary estimates just before Parliament prorogued.

MILLIONS OF YOUNG TREES FOR PRAIRIES

Canadian Press

Ottawa, July 17.—Preparations have been completed to provide 20,000,000 year-old trees for planting on the prairies next year. They are being grown at the forestry nursery stations of the Dominion Department of Agriculture at Indian Head and Buthersburg, Sask. These stations this year provided the prairie farmers with 9,000,000 trees.

Tree planting will be one of the important features of the campaign to rehabilitate the drought areas of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, will leave Ottawa to-night for the west, where he will inspect the progress of the campaign, for which Parliament last session provided $750,000.

ONTARIO FARMS NEED MUCH HELP

Canadian Press

Ottawa, July 17.—Acute shortage of experienced farm labor on nine agricultural fronts in Ontario, with an anticipated scarcity in a tenth district, to-day was reported to the Department of Agriculture following a Dominion-wide survey.

Ontario alone stood in this category. All other provinces telegraphed that local supply would meet labor demands.

Toronto, July 17.—Farmlands of Ontario this year promise a bumper crop—one of the best in a decade—and unofficial estimates of the provincial Department of Agriculture indicate farmers will realize millions of dollars more than they did in 1934.

Harvesting the crop will tax farmers' labor resources to the utmost because they face the prospect of having to start cutting spring grains before all the hay has been stored.

So urgent have been appeals to the government for farm help a plan has been announced for placing unemployed men on the farms to aid in the harvest. If men on relief do agricultural work municipalities will look after their families. Minister of Welfare David Croll has announced. And when the men return in the fall they will not be asked for an accounting of their earnings.

Air Raid Rules Are Criticized

Labor Member Tells British Commons Protection For People Inadequate

Associated Press

London, July 17.—The government's plans to protect the public against air raids were called a "lie" and "cowardly" in a biting Labor attack in the House of Commons yesterday.

At the same time a government appropriation of more than $25,000,000 for air defence was made known. That sum will meet the cost of expansion of the Royal Air Force.

Assaulting the recently issued air raid precautions circular, Morgan Jones, Laborite, said the government should have shouldered the expense and "the government is inviting millions of poor people to believe there could be adequate protection against air raids through the methods proposed."

"No only is it asking people to believe it, but to pay for believing it," he said.

"MAD CAREER"
Mr. Jones, referring to immunity from air raids, said "members know this is a lie. This is an attempt to persuade the people to be quiet. The government will go on in that mad career. Let it undertake the expense itself."

He debated initiated by discussion of the Home Office budget, Bryn Davies, Labor, voiced his "doubt whether a circular so terrible in its implications was ever issued by any government of this country. Unless I am gravely mistaken, this is the first time in this country for many centuries a circular has been issued to the civil population to prepare them for war."

"The circular has already caused consternation in a large section of the community," Mr. Davies added.

BIG U.S. HOUSING PLANS SPEEDED

Associated Press

Washington, July 17.—Embarking on a nation-wide selling campaign, the Federal Housing Administration is intensifying efforts to open up a market of gigantic potentialities for the durable goods and building industries.

Seven experts from the F.H.A. have been assigned to the key centres of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Chicago and Cleveland. Officials to-day said they would seek to stimulate wider use of federal financing facilities for modernization of industrial and commercial plants and dwellings.

Main objective in the campaign, officials said, is the release of a pent-up demand for materials and machinery which has been accumulating since the 1929 crisis to the point where economists say it now is the greatest in the country's history.

He was formerly proprietor of Reynolds' Illustrated Newspapers and chairman and managing director of United Newspapers Ltd.

The doctor peeled off his coat and for four hours calmly used every ounce of his professional skill—in vain.

He finally pronounced the sixteen-year-old boy dead.

A policeman asked if anyone could identify the body.

"I can," said the doctor. "It's my son, Nubar."

IS PLACE IN LIFE FOR ALL

Garland Anderson, Negro Teacher, Tells How Man Can Find It

Associated Press

Everyone, whether they know it or not, and that place can be found not through repression, but through the full expression of their individualities; not by trusting in their common sense, but by a full belief in the power of God to direct them into it.

This was the theme of Garland Anderson, negro playwright, philosopher, psychologist and religious teacher, in the second of his series of four lectures, delivered yesterday evening before more than 800 persons in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel.

Men were not in their present places in the world by chance, as victims of circumstances, but for a definite purpose. No man acquainted with the spiritual side of life could believe that his whole being was brought about by chance. In the words of the Bible text, "I have chosen and ordained you that ye may go forth and bear fruit."

His only reason why people were unaware of their right place in life was that they had failed to let themselves—not try, but let themselves—trace their way to that place. In order to reach that place they must not force themselves to seek for the way to it, but must have a faith in God sufficiently great to permit Him to work through them in directing them to it.

ALL HAVE FAITH
"The faith that you need, you have—every living soul has the same amount of faith to begin with, but all do not use the same amount."

"The question might be asked, said Mr. Anderson, why God did not use His divine wisdom in leading each man to his place, if such a place existed?"

Men, he said, were individuals. If they had not the power of choice they would not possess their individual identity. The direction of God was there behind them, but never forced itself on their consciousness unless they wished it.

NEUTRAL PERFECT POWER
"If God is impersonal," others might ask, how can He know where the individual place of each is? God, Mr. Anderson replied to the imaginary question, was a neutral perfect power, expressed through every individual, each one of whom, being in his personality the sum total of all the various convictions which he had received up to that moment, was equipped to do some one thing—to fill some one place—perfectly.

This neutral power of God the speaker compared to a bright light, which would reveal the pattern and meaning of various and individual pieces of film placed before it. "As long as we do not believe that the light of God could direct us, we shall never get the reflection of our personalities."

QUESTION OF WILLINGNESS
Men worked out their own salvation by allowing the light of God to express through them their rightful place in the world. It was a question of their willingness to let that light work through them.

"We are so prone to make a god of our common sense—when you lean on the wisdom of God it works through you to put you in your rightful place sometimes despite your common sense."

The workings of this direction, even if they seemed against the individual's conception of common sense, were never senseless; they were the product rather of a more than common sense, an uncommon sense.

At the conclusion of his lecture Mr. Anderson answered in simple and in helpful terms many questions put by members of his audience. He welcomed such questions, he said, because in answering them he himself was able to learn. He had such faith that the power of God would work through him to answer them, that he never hesitated to receive them.

Mr. Anderson was introduced by Dr. Clem Davies. He announced that Mr. Anderson will take part with him next Sunday morning in a service of divine healing at the Empire Theatre.

CANADIAN CROP DAMAGE SLIGHT

Ottawa, July 17.—Crop conditions throughout Canada continue promising, says a report issued to-day by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Severe crop damage has been confined to limited areas.

The effects of the early season drought are still showing in western British Columbia, but ample rains have been received during the past two weeks. Important areas in southern Alberta and south-western Saskatchewan continue to suffer from drought.

FIRE ALARM IN TOWER OF LONDON

Associated Press

London, July 17.—A heavy steel grille—proof against both fire and theft—was dropped over the Crown Jewels yesterday evening, when a fire alarm was sounded in the historic Tower of London.

Guards with fixed bayonets immediately leaped to safeguard the famed gems. Sentries were doubled as the tower was plunged into darkness, and visitors milled about in a rush for exits. The alarm turned out to be a minor affair, arising when a fuse in Beveaux Tower blew out, extinguishing the lights. Smoke billowed up, but there was no flame.

London, July 17.—Voluntary agreement between the United Kingdom, Australia and New Zealand, covering supplies of mutton and lamb to the British market for eighteen months, including December, 1936, was announced in the House of Commons yesterday by Rt. Hon. Walter Elliot, Minister of Agriculture.

For the first six months, ending December 31, New Zealand will send 1,578,000 hundredweight and Australia 950,000. During 1936 New Zealand will send 3,900,000 and Australia 1,750,000, provision being made for adjustment upwards or downwards in the light of later estimates of capacity of the market and United Kingdom production.

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S HEAVY LOSS

IN A STATEMENT MADE TO THE PRESS in Vancouver yesterday, Mr. H. R. MacMillan, head of the H. R. MacMillan Export Company, said that if the Japanese government carries out its threat to impose a surtax of 50 per cent on our lumber, British Columbia's lumber and log exports will be entirely wiped out. For the first time in fifteen years, Mr. MacMillan said, "we have no orders on hand from Japan ... for the last two months no orders have been placed by Japanese importers because of the prospect of the tax."

Meanwhile, the Ottawa government, according to a dispatch from the national capital, is making no formal statement, "it was learned at the office of Prime Minister Bennett today"—which was yesterday. We are told that communications are still being exchanged and it is understood the Japanese government is now considering Canada's "latest outline of the situation." Here is another part of the Ottawa dispatch which will require some explaining in the light of the observations of Mr. MacMillan:

Communications received from Japan through the regular diplomatic agencies do not bear out the reports contained in news dispatches. It was learned today that the Japanese government has had no advice that Japan intends to impose the 50 per cent surtax on Canadian products after a certain date unless alleged trade discriminations against Japanese imports are removed.

If the government at Ottawa is so ignorant of what the Japanese surtax means to the lumber industry of British Columbia it will be well for the government of British Columbia to give it some facts—to tell Mr. Bennett that the prohibitive duty will mean the loss of business to this province of something in the neighborhood of $6,000,000. The government of this province should push this matter with Ottawa for the simple reason that it intensifies the "work and wages" programme of our own Premier. This is what The Toronto Star, the newspaper with by far the largest circulation of any newspaper in Canada, says in part about this controversy:

For years this Dominion has done a jug-handled trade with Japan, selling much and purchasing little. In fact in the fiscal year just ended Japan bought almost as great a value of goods from Canada as Canada has bought from Japan in the past four years. The situation in the last complete fiscal period before Mr. Bennett took charge of Canada's affairs, and in the one ended with March of 1935, compare as follows:

Fiscal Year	Imports From Japan	Exports to Japan
1930	$12,537,283	$18,958,965
1935	$4,284,454	$16,985,268

It will be seen from this that while Canada buys but little more than a third of what she used to secure from Japan, she sells that country almost as much as ever. Most of the difference is accounted for by the drop in silk importations. But even the $4,500,000 worth of goods which Canada is now credited with purchasing is an overstatement, for it is based on a yen worth the normal 40 cents, whereas the yen is really worth only 20 cents. When goods which cost the importer 100 yen ($20) are brought into Canada, the importer must pay duty on them as though they had cost $40—and must also pay other taxes based on this inflation of cost and inflation of duty. It is a situation similar to that which existed when the English pound was far below par.

As The Toronto Star says, here is another tariff wall erected, all of which means that there is going to be less employment for Canadian workmen. Happily the day is not far off when a new government at Ottawa will be elected to get this country back on to a new tariff basis.

THE SASKATCHEWAN INQUIRY

IT IS HARD TO FOLLOW THE OBJECTION of Hon. Hugh Guthrie to three judges of Saskatchewan acting as a Royal Commission to inquire into the recent relief camp marchers' trouble at Regina. The judges, who were appointed as Commissioners by the government of Saskatchewan, have retired from that body following Mr. Guthrie's communication questioning the propriety of an inquiry by them in view of the prospect that they would be sitting in judgment on the strikers who are awaiting trial.

If judges, who are appointed by Ottawa, can not properly act on Royal Commissions set up by provinces because they may have to sit in judgment later in court on issues related to the subject of their inquiry, there would be very few judicial investigations. There always is the possibility of legal proceedings concerning matters which come before inquiries by Royal Commissions.

It is difficult to avoid the presumption that the government at Ottawa does not want an impartial investigation by high court judges before the federal election, that the evidence which would be brought out would emphasize too sharply the weird bungling which resulted in killing, wounding and property damage at Regina.

BAD FOR BALDWIN

THE WEST TOWNSHIP DIVISION OF the borough of Liverpool yesterday decided that it again wanted a Labor representative in the British House of Commons. Mr. J. Gibbins, who has represented the constituency in three Parliaments, was returned yesterday with a majority of 5,343 over his Conservative opponent in a straight fight. The figures were: Gibbins, Labor, 14,908; Cremllyn, Conservative, 9,565. In the general election of 1931, the votes were cast as follows: Wilson, Conservative, 20,633; Gibbins, Labor, 14,978. Thus it will be seen that a Conservative majority four years ago of 5,655 has been turned into a Labor majority of 5,343.

This somewhat startling turnover coming so soon after the retirement of Mr. Ramsay MacDonald from the Premiership and the assumption of that office by Mr. Baldwin may have much significance. It may be assumed that the issues involved Great Britain's foreign policy, with other things, for in all the by-elections which have been held, at least in the last two years, the subject of disarmament and peace have played a very prominent part. Government majorities recorded in 1931 in more than fifty constituencies have been reduced by between seven and eight thousand, while the government, of course, has lost a number of important, and traditionally Conservative seats.

The verdict in the West Tenth division of Liverpool may or may not have nothing to do with the Peace Ballot recently concluded after seven months of valiant effort on the part of the League of Nations Union—a verdict of 11,000,000 people in favor of Britain's continued membership in the League of Nations and for all for which that organization stands. Additional expenditure on armaments, when so many are unemployed, while housing conditions still leave much to be desired, has worked up dangerous impatience with the government—so-called national, but the most overwhelmingly Conservative one since the Reform Act days of 1832.

B.C. MINISTERS

BRITISH COLUMBIA HAS HAD NINE representatives in Dominion ministries since it entered Confederation. The first was Sir John Macdonald, who, after being defeated in Kingston in the election of 1878, elected by acclamation in Marquette, Manitoba, from which he retired on assuming the portfolio of Inland Revenue with his Premiership, was returned for Victoria with Mr. de Cosmos. The next minister in Ottawa from this province was Hon. E. G. Prior, who was appointed Minister—then Controller—of Inland Revenue in the cabinet of Hon. Mackenzie Bowell in 1896.

Hon. William Templeman of Victoria was Minister of Inland Revenue and Minister of Mines in the Laurier administration from 1906 until 1911. Hon. Martin Burrell was Minister of Agriculture in the cabinet of Sir Robert Borden, a post in which he was succeeded by Hon. Simon Tolinie in the Meighen ministry. Hon. H. H. Stevens, then a Vancouver member, also was a member of the Meighen government.

Hon. J. H. King, member for East Kootenay, became a member of the government of Mackenzie King in 1921. On Dr. King's appointment to the Senate, he was succeeded in the federal cabinet by Hon. Ian Mackenzie. Hon. H. H. Stevens was a minister under Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett until his recent retirement, and in the shuffle which followed, Hon. George Stirling of Yale, entered the government.

The indications are that Hon. Ian Mackenzie, who was one of the stalwarts of the Liberal opposition in the present Parliament, will again represent this province in the ministry at Ottawa after the next general election.

RELIEF COST

RELIEF CAMPS IN BRITISH COLUMBIA are estimated to have cost some $15,000,000 in the last five years. This large sum includes the construction and equipment of the camps, the maintenance of their occupants, the purchase of supplies and so on. Since the average enrolment of the camps has been around 5,000, the cost works out at $3,000 per man over the five-year period, or $600 a year. This is about equal to the amount paid in ordinary relief to a married man and a family of five. It is hardly necessary to say that if the $15,000,000 expended by Dominion and provincial governments in varying proportions on these relief camps had been put to work on some well-considered and well-conducted programme, more than 5,000 could have been employed, while the morale of many of our young men would have been maintained.

Apart from the big expenditure of camps, the aggregate cost of relief in British Columbia up to last December, according to the last budget speech of the provincial Minister of Finance, was $34,828,248. Of that amount $16,513,772 represents the total outlay by the province and comprises $15,463,455 as the provincial proportion, and $1,050,317 in repayable advances to the municipalities. The Dominion share was $13,883,185, while the municipalities spent $4,431,289 out of their own funds. Counting the cost of camps, the aggregate expenditure on relief in British Columbia to date probably exceeds $50,000,000. On that basis, under all heads, it is likely that in the last five years Canada has expended more than a billion dollars on relief.

Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest

THE OLD TOWN HOTEL

The loneliest place I was ever in, and it's gospel truth I tell,
 Was the lobby grand of an up-to-date, magnificent hotel.
 The chairs were deep and wide and soft and the walls were fair to see
 And hundreds of people came and went, but never one spoke to me.

Alone I sat through an afternoon, while the rain was beating down,
 And thoughts of the time I was stranded once in a little country town.

They called it the Grand Hotel, but why I never could understand;
 There was nothing about it from cellar to roof that was even close to grand.

There was a deer head on the wall, and a fish on a varnished plank
 A fly-specked picture of hunting dogs and a calendar from the bank.

There were a stove and some rocking chairs, but that lobby I still recall
 As being richer with human fellowship than any great glided hall.

I was the stranger, but not for long. The proprietor sat him down
 And told me things of the old and young who peopled that little town.

Men came and went as the storm kept up. To the tune of the wind's wild wail,
 I got the tale of that long dead deer and the yarn of that mounted fish.

He had a dog and he called him in to show me his clever tricks,
 And I reckon we settled most everything from religion to politics.

Loose Ends

A grave crime is hereby confessed—We should keep our own road—A curious mystery on Douglas Street—And scientific advice to the sun-burned.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

HUNTED

NOW I know what it feels like to be a hunted criminal, a man fleeing from his fellows, with the gates of prison yawning at his heels. To clear my conscience and get an intolerable load off my mind, I propose to make a clean breast of it and then throw myself on the broad bosom of the police, asking for mercy.

Yesterday I stopped my car with great unctious and a high sense of civic virtue at the corner of Fort and Douglas when the green light turned to red. I mean, this observance of the law is always a keen satisfaction to the patriotic citizen, this unselfish waiting for the pedestrian to cross, instead of running them down as they deserve, this supreme self-denial when you are in a hurry.

Well, I stopped at Fort and Douglas and eyed the policeman on the corner with the bold look of an honest man who has nothing to fear. But I was so elevated by civic patriotism, so conscious of my own virtue that when I progressed northward to View Street my whole mind was taken up with contemplation of these higher sentiments. It was far from the mundane matter of traffic lights—when I came to, I found myself nearing Yates and, looking back, I observed that I had driven clear through a red light at View Street. Several pedestrians shouted after me in a most humiliating fashion, as if I were a heartless juggernaut. I half expected to see a dozen mangled corpses in my wake, but there didn't seem to be many. And neither the officer at Fort nor the one at Douglas had observed this crime mid-way between them.

The green light was on at Yates and I drove northward with haste, fleeing from the scene of the disaster. But I felt like a man who has slaughtered a little child in cold blood. I felt like a fellow who has stepped on a baby robin. I could not rest until I had confessed all and taken the consequences. After this I shall keep off Douglas Street or stop contemplating higher sentiments. They have no place in an age of traffic lights.

And now, officer, take me. I am quite ready.

OUR ROAD

A DISTINGUISHED traveler advises Vancouver Island to maintain the Island Highway as it is—curved, wandering, whimsical. This is a sound idea which the government should keep in mind if and when it can do anything about the Island Highway.

Visitors who come here from other places can get all the speedways and race tracks they want at home. When they come to Vancouver Island they expect to find something utterly different from anything they have ever seen before, and at present they are not disappointed.

But if the main highway (from which they seldom stray far) becomes a long, straight ribbon of concrete, like the highways of Washington, for example, they might as well stay in their own country.

It is not, however, the base commercial motive which should decide this thing. The Island Highway is the kind of highway that we, with our curious nature, should have. It is easy-going, leisurely and sane. It varies and avoids the dull monotony of other places. It is green and, in the spring when the broom is out, it looks like a path through a garden.

In short, it has character which, for all they can say against us, we still have ourselves.

We should not surrender our character, as reflected in our great road, to the twin gods of Speed and Hurry who, while always on the move, never get anywhere at all. We should widen the highway in spots, we should keep the surface smooth, we should certainly remove the new menace—attack of illegal advertising signs, which the Public Works Department persistently ignores, but we should keep it as our own road, instead of making it a cheap imitation of somebody else's.

MYSTERY

AS I WAS walking down Douglas Street recently—before the crime noted above—and was halted by a red light (I cannot keep these lights out of this space any more than poor Mr. Dick could keep King Charles's head out of his memorial), and as I stood there on the curb, an old man hobbled up beside me. He had long white hair and a face that seemed all dead but the glittering eyes, like the Ancient Mariner. I thought I had seen him before, but I didn't know who he was.

As we waited there in the crowd he clutched at my arm and uttered these words hoarsely into my ear: "Generally I agree with everything you write, sir. It's Bible truth, sir, every word of it. Especially about the banks. That's our trouble, sir, the banks. But I've been waiting to tell you, there's one thing where you were wrong—You mistook the public on it, sir. You distorted the truth, sir. You caused more trouble and sorrow than you knew. I'm not saying you did it deliberately, but you should correct it, sir, you should correct it. There's the public truth about ..."

But at that moment the lights changed, the crowd surged forward, carrying us with it, and I never saw the old man again. That great untruth perpetrated here must go forever thundering and skulking through the world uncorrected, and unrecognized, and the old man, I dare say, is brooding over it beside his fire these nights, and mumbling to himself, and telling the neighbors how I slipped like a snake out of his grasp. It is occurrences like this that make the rate of mortality so high among fellows in this newspaper business. Worry and conscience kills them. I knew those traffic lights would only cause trouble and confusion.

SCIENTIFIC NOTE

AFTER last week-end, I gather, every citizen of Victoria was sunburned to a rich scarlet, and many a beautiful picture was hidden under the street dress of civilization. Last night I was up to our lake for a while and I inquired about the scientific aspects of this matter among my friends there.

"The way we do," said the little girl from next door, "is to do it a little bit at a time."

"Top first," said her brother.

"Yes, we sunburn from the top down," said she. "Because if you do it all over at once, you can't lie down in your bed."

"First we do the back," said he.

"You see our backs?" said she. "They're all red. But look at our tummies," she added, lifting the front of her bathing suit to prove it. "They're all white."

"Mine's white, too," said he, lifting his to prove it.

"Well, just now we're sleeping on our tummies," said she. "When the sunburn on our back has turned to tan, then we'll sleep on our backs again. Then one side and then the other. By the end of the summer we'll be tanned all over and can sleep any way we like."

"You got to be careful," said he. "You got to be careful your bathing trunks don't slip or you'll get all burned there and you can't sit down to eat your dinner. Steady, my trunks slipped and he can't sit down for to eat his dinner yet."

This scientific advice is given freely to all the sun-burned of Victoria.

Kansas City, July 17 (Associated Press)—Dry Kansas is wetter than wet Missouri on Sunday. Missouri's new Sunday closing law is responsible. The state is wet six days a week, but dry Sundays. Kansas is no drier Sundays than during the week, which is to say 3.2 beer can sold all week. Wet Missourians cannot legally buy a drink of anything, even 3.2 beer, Sundays.

The Peace Ballot

MANCHESTER GUARDIAN June 28, 1935

The final results in the Peace Ballot announced in London last night, provide ample material for politicians to brood upon. In its way this ballot has been the most interesting political experiment of our time. No direct parallel is available in previous history: to find even a remote analogy we should have to go back to the days of the Chartist agitation, and even then the strength of appeal and some details of method, was actually as dissimilar as it could well be.

The Peace Ballot began as a non-party project, and if it was at any time twisted into something else that was the fault of its more envenomed and foolish opponents and of them alone. The issues before the country cut clean across party lines and party programmes. To the extent that they were already decided, and approved by the signatures of British Governments to various international treaties since the war, they may be described as virtually non-party.

The ballot was not designed to provide new political policies but to confirm the old—to test, at a time when the League and "collective security" seemed to be falling into discredit, how far it was the will of the British people that this country should stand by its pledges. The answer to that question, as Lord Cecil could claim last night, was now known given with a volume and a clarity that have astonished the promoters themselves.

It was hoped at the beginning that the total poll might possibly reach 4,000,000 or 5,000,000. It has actually reached nearly 12,000,000. More people have voted in the vote than in this ballot than have voted for any political party at any ordinary general election. In several constituencies the proportion of the adult electorate that "went to the poll" actually exceeded 80 per cent.

So much for the quantitative result, for the degree of public interest in the ballot is shown by the fact that it is a result which reflects immense credit on the hand chiefly of voluntary workers who, at short notice and with scanty funds, have toiled to secure it. The qualitative result is no less interesting. On some cardinal points of international policy the British people, as tested by this vote, are as nearly unanimous as makes no matter. Ninety-seven per cent of votes were cast for British support of the League. Ninety-four per cent of the "Yes" and "No" answers together were in favor of economic measures against an aggressor. Ninety per cent approved of the international prohibition of the private manufacture of arms—an expression of public opinion which should interest the Royal Commission now considering this question.

The ballot's achievement can now be put in provisional perspective. It will profoundly strengthen, at home and abroad, the hands of any British Government determined on maintaining the League and the collective system. It will profoundly weaken any government that is prepared to do neither and that finds excuses in an alleged absence of "popular support" for its attempt to "lead the people from behind." It has also been a useful piece of education for the country as a whole; the homes that have discussed or debated this ballot-paper have been familiarized with its political issues as nothing else would have done, and, as Lord Cecil sees, the enthusiasm of the army of canvassers who were attracted into the work must find future channels for its similar employment. These 12,000,000 votes also provide a shattering and entirely agreeable commentary on the efforts and pretensions of some alleged mass-manufacturers of public opinion. The ballot has had to "lead the people from behind."

A considerable section of the press discovered all kinds of mysterious and inexplicable dangers in the scheme. Its organizers were accused of attempting to make party capital out of it. Eminent Conservatives advised the public to have nothing to do with the paper at the same time (fortunately) that other, not less eminent, Conservatives were advising their constituents to fill it in.

SUNSHINE CAMP

To the Editor:—As we are all members of the first bunch of mothers who spent two weeks at the "Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp," we were very much surprised to read a letter in Monday night's Times from the mothers now at camp, saying they not resting well while at camp. We think it is rather unfair to expect it, as they are all receiving their board and lodgings free. Therefore there is no expense at home for them. As regards working for what you get the work entails washing dishes and generally tidying up. "And as many hands make light work" this amounts to about twenty minutes a day. Would you call this working for all you got?

To the Editor:—I suppose it is because we are in the dog-days, when the sun's rays often are unduly warm, that we are being entertained to a symposium on evolution versus fundamentalism by correspondents who have a passion for seeing their names in the newspaper. Why don't they stage a debate on the house-boats and save paper and printer's ink?

LETHBRIDGE CELEBRATION

Former Residents to Participate Locally in Anniversary of City's Founding

Former residents of Lethbridge, Alberta, have decided to hold a reunion to commemorate locally the fiftieth anniversary of that city's establishment. This gathering will be held at Richard's Private Garden on Wednesday, July 24, at 3 p.m. As the principal jubilee celebration will take place in Lethbridge from July 22 to July 24, appropriate communications will be interchanged between the two gatherings.

The officers and committee appointed to take charge of the reunion are as follows: President and chairman, William Colpman; secretary, Mrs. E. H. Wilson; secretary, Miss Margaret L. Agnew; committee, Frank Colpman, G. Hamilton Harman, Mrs. F. W. B. George, A. E. Humphries and Mrs. F. C. Niven.

To an old-timer the names mentioned above will recall memories of the early history and business life of Lethbridge. William Colpman was one of the original town council and one of the early mayors. While his brother, Frank Colpman, was managing director of the Northwest Jobbing Co. Ltd., the pioneer wholesale concern of southern Alberta.

Mrs. E. H. Wilson is a daughter of one of the original landowners there, the late John Duff, and her husband was for many years controller of the Alberta Railway and Irrigation Co., whose inception was due to the late

Sir Alexander and Elliott Galt, while Miss Margaret Agnew was also associated with the "Company," as it was called, later going to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company department of national resources when it was thus acquired.

Mrs. George was a daughter of one of the early N.W.M.P. officers, Inspector Casey, and Mr. Harman was connected with the Bank of Montreal in Lethbridge and district for a number of years, while Mr. Niven's husband, Fred C. Niven, is reported to have been the first man who slept on the townsite of Lethbridge. Immigration matter in southern Alberta, as far south as the international boundary, were handled by A. E. Humphries.

Those who resided in Lethbridge as a village, town or city are invited to attend the reunion and requested to immediately telephone E 3827, E 8600 or G 5485, and advise whether or not they will be able to attend. The practice of holding gatherings of this kind has become quite popular in recent years, and former townpeople appear to enjoy turning back the clock a few decades.

PORT ALBERNI DRUGGIST DIES

Port Alberni, July 17.—At Forest's Undertaking Parlor Monday the Rev. Glen Stevenson conducted funeral services for Fred S. Wilson, well-known druggist of this city, who died suddenly at his home on Saturday.

The remains were afterwards shipped to Tottenham, Ont., for burial in the city of his birth. Mr. Wilson was born at Tottenham fifty-one years ago, the son of John and Ann Wilson, and came to Port Alberni ten years ago. He leaves his wife, Mary, and two sisters, Mrs. H. E. Ellis of Millbrook, Ont., and Mrs. (Rev.) R. H. Brett of Chippewa, Ontario.

REGISTRAR WINS BENCH'S PRAISE

Appeal Court Ends Long Sitting That Has Run Into Vacation

Before the Court of Appeal formally adjourned yesterday, sixteen days late, for summer vacation, Acting Chief Justice Martin spoke from the Bench with reference to the services to the court of Registrar Oswald Barton.

The Acting Chief Justice said the court desired to express its commendation of Mr. Barton for the very able manner in which he had handled the difficult duty cast upon him of having to arrange the unusually long list of cases before the court during its prolonged sitting, which had run into more than two weeks of the vacation period. He spoke of the extra hours of work that had been imposed upon Mr. Barton in thus carrying out his court duties.

"No doubt, he has been animated by the same desire that we on the Bench have had, of seeing that no man lacked the opportunity of having his case heard," the Acting Chief Justice said.

He went on to commend also the way in which the members of the legal profession had co-operated with Registrar Barton and the court during the long and trying sitting. "It gives me a great deal of pleasure to make these observations," said the Acting Chief Justice in conclusion.

The sitting of the Court of Appeal, which was brought to a close just before noon to-day, began on June 4. Thirty-eight appeals were heard during the sitting.

"Caddy" Winners Are Announced

Harry M. Filewood, Lampson St., Wins Competition; Alan Blaney Second

Harry M. Filewood, aged fourteen, 586 Lampson Street, won first prize of $5 in the "Caddy" Art Competition for children under fourteen, according to an announcement made by the judges, Will Menelaws, Cecil French and Alderman Archie Willis.

According to the judges, Harry's picture of "Caddy" surrounded by a number of seagulls "shows virile action with excellent perspective. The action and lines of the sea-birds making an attack tend the eye to the important features, namely, 'Caddy.' There is entire absence of secondary unnecessary details."

The other winners, with the judges' comment, were as follows: Second prize of $4, won by Alan Blaney, aged fourteen, 1696 Earle Street. "Excellent drawing throughout showing mastery handling of the pencil."

Third prize of $3, won by Ernest M. Chadwick, aged fourteen, 1011 Quadra Street. "Another excellent action-drawing in color."

Fourth prize of $2, won by Geoffrey Blaney, aged thirteen, 1696 Earle Street. "Shows action with particularly good perspective."

Fifth to tenth prize, $1 each: Bert More, aged thirteen, 80 Howe Street; Dorothy E. Turner, aged 15, 1619 Pinewood Avenue; Laura E. Singleton, aged twelve, R.N.J. Royal Oak; Norman Swain, aged fourteen, Colquhoun; Alfred Evans, aged eleven, Colquhoun; Victor Edward Syrett, aged fourteen, Milne's Landing.

Nearly one hundred sketches were submitted. Many showed the contestants to be possessed of considerable talent, while others were overburdened with landscape and ships in too much detail instead of a concentration on the figure of "Caddy."

Two productions received honorable mention. One in particular was the work of Ellen Miles, 537 Victoria Avenue, Oak Bay, but unfortunately she was barred from participating in the prize winning because she was slightly over age. Ellen is undoubtedly a real artist, her picture, done in colors, being good for color and showing excellent action. There was an entire absence of unnecessary detail, the scene being one of early morn at sea with "Caddy" placidly swimming on the surface of the water. The whole picture imparted a feeling of life so that the eye was immediately drawn to it.

Raymond Restall, 3031 East Grey Street, received honorable mention, and would have been placed as winner of the fourth prize, but was just over age. His picture showed activity and very good perspective, the judges said.

FAIR SPACE IS RESERVED

Local Firms Will Exhibit at Victoria Fair to Be Held in September

A good cross section of Victoria's business and industrial life will be represented in the annual provincial exhibition of the British Columbia Agricultural Association at the Willows from September 7 to 14, according to an early list of stall reservations released to-day by W. H. Mearns, secretary.

Those who have reserved space to date include a number of former exhibitors who have again applied for locations in which to display their wares, including the latest departures in the various phases of business or industrial activity they represent.

Among the many exhibitors whose displays have won wide acclaim at previous fairs are the British Columbia Electric Railway Company Ltd., Victoria Gas Company, McLennan, McPheeley & Prior Ltd., Holsum Packing Company, Y.M.C.A., Savannah's Studios, McDowell & Mann, Kent Piano Company, and the Canadian Institute for the Blind.

BUT PARTIAL LIST

The list issued to-day is but partially complete, many other concerns being expected to register some time prior to the opening of the exhibition. Perhaps one of the most progressive of the exhibitors at the forthcoming fair will be W. F. Holdridge, who inaugurated a "Hall of Science" in the upper part of one of the buildings last year. For the coming event he has secured large quarters and will be able to enlarge his display.

HAVE RESERVED SPACE

The partial list of exhibitors as announced to-day follows: Victoria Women's Institute, Daughters of England, Singer Sewing Machine Co. Ltd., Gainers Ltd., A. NEW PLAN FOR REDEMPTIONS

Must Pay Half Upset Price of Improved Properties to Regain Title

Notices will go out shortly from the City Hall explaining to property owners in tax arrears the policy the city will apply this year to improved lots which go up for sale on the first Monday in November.

Two-year-old arrears, non payment of which place properties on the block, are among the lowest being paid to the city this year.

According to existing legislation a propertyholder can retain his full claim on his holdings by paying one year's arrears.

However, if the property owner lets his holdings slide a second year, the council is creating a new policy, was adopted this year for redemption.

In the case of improved property in arrears for two years and bought back by the city, the owner will be able to regain title to his holdings by paying one-half of the upset price, which includes 1934 and current taxes, plus interest and charges, within a year from the sale date.

To hold his house and land he must then pay up the remainder of the outstanding taxes and charges within a two-year period from the date of sale.

The new arrangement applies only to improved property bought by the city.

Denman Island Ferry Bids Opened Here

Five bids were received by the provincial government Monday for operation of a ferry across Baynes Sound between Buckley Bay and Denman Island.

Following are the bids, which were opened by Hon. John Hart, acting Minister of Public Works:

Capt. A. H. Swan, Denman Island, subsidy of $4,500 for limited operation, and $5,000 for the more extended schedule; David Robertson Courtenay, subsidy $2,500 and $3,000 respectively; W. W. Balkie Bros., Denman Island, subsidy of $3,000 and $3,500 respectively; L. E. Good, Victoria, subsidy of $3,740 for the extended operation only.

Capt. A. R. Good of Nanaimo, put in six bids on a different basis, and these will be analyzed for comparison, it was stated. The figures mentioned a subsidy ranging from $3,400 to $6,800.

All tenders were referred for report.

Wax Plucking Demonstrated

Chicken's Skin Clean and Smooth After Dipping Into Wax Bath

"The skin you'll love to touch" in the future will be the skin of a chicken. With the new wax plucking process which has just been demonstrated in Victoria, the skin of the average rooster or broiler which has too often felt as though it needed a shave to the housewife will be as smooth as a baby's skin.

A KING OF THE UNITED THE PERSIANS

Now officially called Iran, recalls much of its early history through the inscriptions of one of its most illustrious rulers, Darius the Great. Darius, grandson of Cyrus, founder of Iran, ruled from 521 to 485 B.C. and in that time extended the borders of his empire to the Caucasus and secured them from further aggression.

poultry industry was demonstrated by Dr. N. H. Grace, of the National Research Council, and E. S. Mitchell, of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, and P. D. Bonneyman, chief inspector for dressed poultry, before a large number of poultrymen in the City Public Market yesterday afternoon.

They showed how the roughly dressed birds could be dipped into a special liquid was at a temperature of 125 to 130 degrees. After they were immersed they were pulled out, left to cool for a few minutes, and then the glossy brown coat of wax was ripped off pulling with it every vestige of hair or feathers.

It was explained that this method of wax plucking had been developed in the United States. Dr. Grace had made a study of 140 different preparations of wax before he had experimented and finally produced the wax which was used in the demonstration. The wax could be melted, the demonstrators said, and strained, taking all the refuse out, after which it could be used again.

The demonstrators said that not only could the fowls be plucked infinitely cleaner, but the plucking should be done much quicker by the new method. The National Research Council is creating a wax plucking wax plucking in Canada.

Dr. Grace, Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Bonneyman have just completed a coast to coast tour of the Dominion.

W. T. Strath has been appointed representative of the provincial government on the zoning appeal board, the city was informed in a letter to-day. He will replace Fred Landsberg, whose recent death caused a vacancy. The city's representative is W. P. Marchant. S. M. Armstrong, former chairman, is expected to remain the third member of the board.

PRICES DROP ON MARKET

Big Reduction in Tomatoes and New Potatoes; Cucumbers Off Slightly

Prices of tomatoes, cucumbers and new potatoes dropped steeply yesterday, according to advices from wholesale row.

Tomatoes are off a dollar a crate wholesale, which means a reduction of five cents a pound retail, probably the steepest drop this year.

The cucumber prices fell off slightly, and good size cucumbers are now selling for ten cents each.

The control price for new potatoes was lowered considerably, and wholesalers report that potatoes are now 75 cents a sack cheaper than formerly.

The warm weather has given Victoria a taste for capsloupes, and watermelons for wholesalers report that their shipments have been cleaned up. These fruits are now higher in price on account of the scarcity.

Five hundred bunches of bananas were moved into storage rooms in wholesale row yesterday.

The lemon and orange market continue firm yesterday on account of the warm weather.

A drop in price of cherries is expected at about this time, but this has been forestalled by the warm weather which has increased the demand, and the recent rains which have split a large percentage of the fruit. The price for good Byngs in most stores is 25 cents a pound.

Raspberries are now at their peak and are reported to be selling at reasonable prices.

PERSONS AND EVENTS IN THE NEWS

OLD AGE IN REPOSE

Typifying the graceful repose of old age, the restful figure of the spinster pictured here in her frilled bonnet and shawl, slyly "stealing forty winks," was judged the best portrait of 500 prints submitted at the annual salon of photography, held this year at the San Diego exposition. The subject, "Miss Jessie Brown," was taken by Drummond Young of Edinburgh, Scotland. The picture won first prize in the portraiture class.

MAURICE CHEVALIER FINDS BRITAIN "HOT"

Maurice Chevalier, famous French comedian and film star, is shown looking very enviously at Cupid as he perspires in an English heat-wave while attending the Theatrical Garden Party in Regent's Park, London. The charming little Cupid is six-year-old Deirdre Gale, the British "Shirley Temple" who has played in nine films so far.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT INSPECTS FAMOUS YEOMEN

The above photograph shows the Duke of Connaught, uncle of King George, inspecting the King's Body Guard of the Yeomen of the Guard at St. James's Palace. This colorful sight can be seen annually in London and is a great favorite with the children.

EMPERESS OF ABYSSINIA

Here is an excellent picture of the Empress of Abyssinia, daughter of the late Menelik the Second, Conqueror of the Lion of Judah, Elect of God, and King of Kings of Ethiopia. Like her royal husband, the Empress is proud of her heritage.

FASHION'S QUEUE

No, this is not a little girl who wears a bowed pigtail down her back, but one of the fashionable women who turned out at Hendon Aerodrome, near London, to witness the Royal Air Force Pageant. This may be the pigtail's cue for return to popularity.

DROPPING IN ON HER BOY FRIENDS

Demonstrating a new type of cannon fodder and the hardness of to-day's women, Acrobat Lillian Glantz nonchalantly permitted herself to be shot by a cannon in Chicago. Claiming to be the first "human cannonball" ever to perform without the aid of a net, she is pictured above soaring through the atmosphere as her husky young male assistants signal for a fair catch. The act will be featured at the San Diego exposition.

POISED FOR FALL OPENING OF OCEAN AIR SERVICE

With Pan-American Airways' announcement that regular weekly air service between California and the Philippines will begin this fall, this giant "gull," its motors roaring, figuratively tugs at the leash to be away for the ocean airlines. The vast size of this Martin passenger plane, powered by four 800-h.p. engines, is suggested by the size of the men on the lower wings. Within a few weeks, a forty-four-passenger plane of this type will undergo a test flight to Honolulu and return, preparatory to the regular transpacific commercial flights.

LITTLE ROYALTY WATCHES VIEW

Princess Elizabeth (left) and Princess Margaret Rose (right), young members of the British royal family, are seen in the balcony as they witnessed ceremonial review of the yeomen of the King's Guard by the Duke of Connaught on parade grounds at St. James Palace in London, England.

ADDING NEW BEAUTIES TO NATURE'S MARVEL

Nature has lavished beauty on Santa Cruz beach, in northern California, and one of her masterpieces is shown here, the magnificent view of the rolling waves from Arch rock, worn into this formation by the heating of the tides. Just to add to nature's effect, beach beauties frequent the spot, to splash and play and acquire sun tan. Here's a boy of them racing their reflections across the glistening beach.

SAFETY-FIRST FLEDGLING

At an age when other tots are warned not to venture out of the yard, Joyce Hartung, five, is asked not to leave the planet. But if she should tumble off, she has her own little "chute," with which she is shown below, to carry her safely to the ground. Joyce's mother, pictured with her in the upper photo, and Joyce's dad, who operates an airport and flying school near Detroit, are both licensed airplane pilots. And little Joyce is said to have more flying hours to her credit than any other child in the Country.

MUSSOLINI ALL WET

RED MILLIONAIRE

Vacationing at Riccione, Italy, Premier Benito Mussolini is pictured above enjoying a swim. The Italian dictator joined his wife and family at the resort.

You thought there weren't any millionaires in Russia any more? This chap would fool you. He's Vasily Vassilovich Shvarkin, the richest man in Moscow, having received a million rubles royalties from his non-political farce, "Another Man's Child."

BROWN SHIRT GIRLS BROWNING

In spite of appearances, this is not vacation-in-the-country picture. The three young women are members of the women's labor corps in Germany, and were enrolled under the compulsory labor law recently promulgated. Their checked gingham sunbuck romper suits, happy smiles and relaxed attitudes indicate that the Nazi chieftains have not arranged a too strenuous work programme for them.

Mrs. J. H. Fletcher W.M.S. Hostess

Mrs. J. H. Fletcher was hostess at her home, York Place, to the first United Church W.M.S. Auxiliary, Monday afternoon. A good attendance of members and several visitors were present. Mrs. A. Chisholm, the president, presiding.

Mrs. G. Guy conducted the devotional period and spoke on "The Abiding Things of Life." While Mrs. P. Calvert read a paper on "Basic Rules of Life," both were very interesting and helpful.

Appreciation of services rendered was beautifully expressed by Mrs. M. L. McLennan in the presentation of a life membership to Mrs. A. O. Todd. Mrs. Horton, the bride of Rev. Edward W. Horton, E.A., was introduced by the president and received a very warm welcome to the auxiliary. Beautiful solos were rendered during the afternoon by Mrs. Sidney Shaw and Mrs. William Wright, while all enjoyed singing several old favorite hymns of the church. Mrs. P. Calvert accompanying Mrs. J. A. Conliffe expressed a hearty vote of thanks to the artists contributing to the programme and to the hostess for her gracious hospitality. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison.

The tea hour followed and was ably convened by Mrs. W. H. Wright, with Miss Hazel Stewart, president of the "Gleaners," and Miss Jean Polson, president of the "Golden Link" auxiliary, presiding at the tea urns. This social time was greatly enjoyed.

GREEN IS COOL-LOOKING SUMMER COLOR

Green is one of the coolest-looking colors you can wear on hot days. A short-sleeved, rather dark green dress of washable silk, triple shawl, linen or cotton, matching jacket or one of green and white striped flannel, white shoes, hat and gloves and brown bag make an ensemble that looks cool even though the temperature is almost unbearable. On days when your white accessories don't appeal to you, wear brown ones.

Tired and Irritable

Do you feel weak and nervous? Is your housework a burden? Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Mrs. M. A. Kelly of Woodstock, New Brunswick, says: "I was weak and rundown. A neighbor brought me your Vegetable Compound. It helped me so much that I am taking it now as the change."

Get a bottle NOW. It may be just the medicine YOU need.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Colic!—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A more powerful movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. So.

Technology Hazard To Woman In Job Or Home

Says President of U.S. Business Women's Clubs at Seattle Convention; Western World Facing Biggest Crisis in History

Associated Press

Seattle, July 17.—The women are facing a situation to-day far more serious than any other that has confronted them since the dawn of civilization," said Mrs. Geline MacDonald Bowman, president, at the opening last night of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's club-convention.

"The dignity of their position within the home has been destroyed by the new technology; an organized movement to exclude them from gainful employment is making itself felt in all parts of the world. At the same time the state is extending its supervision over the education and training of the children," Mrs. Bowman added.

She shared the platform with Dean Carl Ackerman of the graduate journalism school of Columbia University, at the formal opening of the convention.

Dr. Ackerman's "test of citizenship" speech also was a warning.

"The high tide of public emotion is sweeping toward Washington with the slogan, 'share the wealth,'" he said. "Certainly nobody knows from day to day what will happen, because public emotion is often more powerful than public opinion, and a catch phrase is like a firebrand."

Mrs. Bowman said that "men and women in the western world are facing a crisis that has no counterpart in history. Rights and liberties... are being threatened by movements that tend toward regimentation of Communist society or the autocracy of the dictator."

Weddings

CREIGHTON-McCARTHY

Of interest to local friends of the bridegroom will be the following announcement from the Montreal Star of June 29: The marriage of Miss Anita Estelle McCarthy, daughter of Mr. Thomas J. McCarthy and the late Mrs. McCarthy, to Mr. Charles Pearce Creighton, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. William Creighton, of Victoria, B.C., took place on Wednesday afternoon, June 28, at three o'clock at the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Canon W. H. Davidson officiating.

DUFFIELD-STRONG

Four-square Church, Kingsway, Vancouver, was the setting for an interesting wedding on Wednesday evening, July 3, when Orpha Audrey daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gardum Strong of Rosanville, Sask., was united in marriage to Rev. Guy P. Duffield, Jr., formerly of Victoria, B.C., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy P. Duffield of Pasadena, California. Rev. Anna D. Britton officiating.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Verna Strong, Miss Alice Hodnett and four-year-old Beverly Clarkson, and best man was Mr. Ted Chapman of Victoria.

Mr. John Lindsay and Mr. Orlando Shields ushered the bridal procession to the platform, while Messrs. John Clarkson, Gordon McKibbin, George Manning, George Glass and Herick Holt ushered the guests. Rev. Walter Mussen was master of ceremonies, and Miss Owen Blash played the wedding march. Mr. O. Harman sang.

Fashioned of crepe satin, the white bridal gown was cut on princess lines on train. A wreath of white satin orange blossom petals encircled the ruffled sleeves and high neck line. The embroidered silk French veil was caught into flared pleating across the back of the head by a single strand of orange blossoms, fastened at the side by a Princess Marina tiera of orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was a shower of Rapture roses, lily-of-the-valley and maidenhair fern.

Miss Strong, as maid-of-honor, was in pink tulle, trimmed with a deep ruching of the taffeta. She wore long white silk mesh gloves and a close-fitting turban of pink taffeta and tulle with white silk veil. Her shower bouquet was of orchid sweet peas, mottled pink carnations and fern.

Miss Hodnett, bridesmaid, wore frilled pale green organza, a flower of pale green and shell pink fastened at the front of the bodice. She wore a string of crystals and turban of green taffeta with white veil. Her shower bouquet was of coral sweet peas, rose-pink carnations and fern.

The flower girl was in yellow organdy with hand-embroidered rosebuds on the white collar and the front of the dress. A sash and hair bandlets were of yellow satin. She carried a colorful shower of orchid sweet peas and yellow carnations.

Mrs. Strong was gowned in powder blue organdy and lace, navy accessories and corsage of Rapture roses.

Miss Margaret Duffield of Pasadena, California, sister of the groom, wore navy and white with navy accessories.

After the reception, attended by 180 guests, Rev. and Mrs. Duffield left by boat for Victoria, en route for Pasadena, the bride traveling in a white wool swag suit with white accessories, the only touch of color being a shell-pink scarf and corsage of Rapture roses and fern.

Mr. and Mrs. Duffield expect to enter the evangelistic field for an indefinite time after a short honeymoon spent in the south.

Ice cream, so far as is known, was first made and eaten during the 16th century in Italy.

JUDGE FLAYS "GOLD-DIGGING"

in Annuling Marriage of Austrian Countess and Wealthy U.S. Man

Associated Press
New York, July 17.—Coldly critical of international marriages in which foreign titles are swapped for hard American cash, Supreme Court Justice Salvatore A. Cotto yesterday annulled the loveless marriage of Countess Marie Wurmbrad-Stuppach of Austria to Glendon J. Ryan Jr., socially and financially eligible grandson of the late Thomas Fortune Ryan.

In confirming a special referee's findings, the court branded the marriage as an example of international "gold digging" by "so-called nobility" with the beautiful nineteen-year-old countess as the pawn in the game to obtain a slice of the Ryan millions.

The court found that young Ryan and his mother were hoodwinked by large talk of the bride's virtue and social standing, but that subsequent admissions from the bride herself disclosed she had other lovers and even then loved an Austrian count.

The pay-off came, the court found, when Ryan's dark-eyed bride advised him to go out and get himself a sweetheart and demanded the right to have extra-curricular lovers of her own.

Ryan and the countess were married February 20, 1934, in a brilliant society wedding here. The wedding trip to Havana, testimony brought out, was a continual wrangle over double rooms and chilling repulses by the bride.

The marriage was never consummated, the court found.

Seven cablegrams, passionate avowals of love, were cited by the court. They were sent by the countess during the period of her engagement to Count Vladimir Mitrowsky, and bewailed the necessity of her marriage as a means of financing the family.

It was brought out, too, that the mother of the bride, Countess May Wurmbrad-Stuppach, had been jailed in Austria on criminal charges of defrauding creditors.

The countess Marie's demand upon Ryan for the right to have relations with other men was described by Justice Cotto as part of the "plot."

TO SWEEP UP SOOT
Here's a simple little rule that will save you many a bad moment when soot falls on your best rug. Don't try to sweep it up at once. If you do, you will have a smudge that you won't get off for goodness knows when. Instead, cover the spot thickly with dry salt. Let stand. Then sweep and rejoice at how clean and bright the rug will look.

LIFT MARRIED TEACHERS' BAN

Canadian Press
London, July 17.—The London county council today lifted the ban on married women teachers. There are 12,000 women teachers in London's schools, and hitherto they had to resign when they got married.

Miss Agnes Dawson, herself a former teacher, in supporting the council resolution, said that to a good teacher marriage was a fresh experience, giving her better understanding.

KEEPING SALAD CRISP
Here's a spring salad hint. Put your wilted lettuce, romaine, escarole or what have you in a pan of water to which has been added one cup of vinegar. Let stand for half an hour and then take out the greens, all dripping fresh and ready for the salad bowl. Also, wrapping lettuce in a damp towel and sticking the ends of the towel in a bowl of water will keep the lettuce fresh for days at a time.

CHINESE WED TO DIME STORE GIRL

Romance of President's Son and Ohio Girl Disclosed

Associated Press
Ashland, Ky., July 17.—K. M. James Lin, son of the president of China, and Miss Viola Brown, clerk in a Columbus, O., five-and-ten-cent store, were married here Sunday, Magistrate Gordon Brown said today.

The romance between Lin, a student at Ohio State University, and Miss Brown, began last April when he lost his purse and she found it.

Columbus, O., July 17.—A dime store clerk who returned a lost purse to the son of China's president soon will become his bride.

K. M. James Lin confirmed today that he had obtained a license to marry Miss Viola Brown of Columbus. He said they would be married as soon as his father, Lin Sen, the president of China, sends approval.

Lin, a student at Ohio State University, and Miss Brown obtained the license at Ashland, Ky., Sunday, and the news got out yesterday despite his efforts to keep it temporarily a secret.

"It's true, but I wish no publicity," chuckled Lin when asked for confirmation.

Lin said he was certain his parents would approve.

U.S. Teachers Divorcing Husbands to Save Jobs, Convention Told

Associated Press
Los Angeles, July 17.—Startling charges that many women school teachers throughout the United States are divorcing their husbands in order to hold their jobs, but maintaining marital relations with them, were made by several speakers yesterday at the closing session of the National Association of Women Lawyers.

Perella Randolph of Los Angeles, newly-elected president of the association, said that in California many teachers conceal their marriages, while others obtain divorces to escape discrimination against married women.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

HOT TEA AND COFFEE ARE BEST FOR ICING

By MARY E. DAGUE
NEA service Staff Writer

For the tinkly frosted glass of iced tea or coffee that means so much on torrid days, you must have, first of all, a perfectly-made hot beverage, and plenty of ice.

Both tea and coffee for iced should be made twice as strong as ordinarily because the melting ice dilutes the drinks at least half. That means twice as much tea and coffee must be used to make the infusion. The steeping and percolating periods are as usual.

A short steeping period for tea produces a fragrant, delicately flavored beverage, mildly stimulating. Long steeping extracts the tannin from the leaves and spoils the delicate aroma and taste. No amount of fresh water added to too strong tea can save it, either. The same is true of coffee.

TIP ABOUT USING ICE
To serve these drinks, fill glasses full of coarsely cracked ice or half-full of chipped or shaved ice. Pour the hot beverage directly on the ice, taking care not to touch the glass with the hot liquid.

If you prefer to use chipped ice in the glasses, first pour the hot tea or coffee over uncracked ice cubes. After the liquid has chilled for a minute, fill the glasses.

For sweetening, powdered sugar dissolves much faster than the very coarser granulated variety. Sections of lemon, lime or orange are served with iced tea. Or you may pass juice of these fruits in a small pitcher or in a bowl with a tiny cream ladle.

For tea punch, make a tea infusion and flavor it well with lemon. Freeze and use as ice cubes. Iced chocolate, cocoa or lemonade make the best iced drinks for the children.

MAKING CHOCOLATE SYRUP
Keep a bottle of chocolate syrup in your icebox and any time iced chocolate is wanted two tablespoons of the syrup can be beaten into a glass of milk. Top each glass with a spoonful of whipped cream. Make the chocolate syrup as you would for hot cocoa—two teaspoons granulated sugar to one teaspoon powdered cocoa and two tablespoons boiling water and cook and stir for two minutes. Add the milk cold, a drop or two of vanilla and a few grains of salt. A quick way to chill cocoa is to drop a ball of ice cream into each glass.

MONDAY'S MENU
Breakfast: Blackberries, cereal, cream, scrambled eggs, graham muffins, milk, coffee.
Lunch: Fresh fruit in banana boats, toasted muffins, iced tea, iced cocoa.
Dinner: Broiled fish steaks with lemon butter, potatoes O'Brien, creamed green beans, cream and radish salad, pineapple sherbet, sponge cake, milk, iced coffee.

SHOWS WEALTH OF FILM STARS

John Barrymore Has Little More Than His Yacht, Tax Record Reveals

By WALTER B. CLAUSEN
Associated Press Staff Writer
Hollywood, Calif., July 17.—John Barrymore is virtually down to his last yacht.

Joan Crawford has more jewels than Diamond Lil Mae West. Charles Chaplin is the wealthiest movie star.

Harold Lloyd is the screen's largest landholder.

These are some of the facts written into the records of the county tax collector, now that the time approaches again for collecting taxes. Many of the stars own property outside Los Angeles County, of course.

John Barrymore's assessed valuation today is $44,975, of which $44,950 is his yacht, the Infanta. A year ago the gross assessment was $46,440, with the yacht on the rolls as worth $49,040.

Joan Crawford and Joe E. Brown share a rare distinction. They are worth more than last year. The assessed valuation of the wide-mouthed comedian this year is $111,125, compared with $55,150 last year. Joan's figure, on the rolls, is $66,010, while last year it was $65,935.

Mae West is down for $4,600, mostly jewelry, while the jewelry alone of Joan Crawford is more than twice that assessed valuation.

Charles Chaplin finds the assessed valuation of $2,692,000 compared with $2,051,220 last year, mostly stocks and bonds.

Mary Pickford is listed at $1,465,740, compared with $1,950,770 last year and $2,055,900 for the year before.

Douglas Fairbanks is on the high seas, and his wealth seems as far away in the eyes of the tax collector. For the rolls show only $39,540 assessed valuation, compared with $1,055,580 last year and $1,959,980 the year before.

William P. Rogers, that's how the county write the name of the film comedian, is assessed at $226,440, compared with $322,920 last year, his land holdings being assessed at $231,320.

Harold G. Lloyd of the thick rimmed glasses is down for $445,640 compared with $664,544 last year. His land holdings are assessed at $390,980.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDER

A baby's actions can very seldom be interpreted as one would interpret adult behavior of the same kind. A fist chewing adult would certainly "look" hungry—and while a fist chewing baby does also, the fact is that fist chewing in a baby would indicate hunger only if all the other indications of hunger were present also.

The most accurate way to determine hunger is to note the baby's weekly gains in weight, and to compare his formula and feeding with that of other babies of the same age and weight. The baby who gains according to expectations and is well fed and sleeps well should be able to enjoy a little fist chewing without being stuffed with more food. He can easily learn the habit of over-eating.

ALWAYS HUNGRY
Mrs. J. S. W. writes: "My baby is always hungry. He is three months old and has gained five pounds since birth. He eats thirty ounces of milk, ten of water and five tablespoons of malted milk. He has five daily feedings. In addition, he gets four ounces of orange juice, three teaspoons of cod liver oil and one tablespoon of a prepared baby cereal."

"But he cries and chews his fist until I give him and feed him and that throws him off his schedule. Water does not satisfy him. My doctor says he is getting enough food, but that he is a large baby and should be given his additional foods sooner. I cannot afford to keep taking him back to the doctor when there is nothing wrong. Can you advise me?"

DOCTOR IS RIGHT
Your doctor is right. The baby has made the regulation gain for the first three months and is now getting a formula that is suitable to a baby of six months weighing up to twenty pounds. Also the amount of additional food is generous. In such case I should make up my mind that the baby is not hungry. Don't be in a hurry to feed between the regular four-hour periods, nor to make any changes in the formula.

Crying and fist chewing can come from overfeeding and discomfort. They may come because baby needs more room to stretch and turn, and since he is a large baby of large birth weight a small bassinet or basket may be inhibiting his activity. He may be too warm or hampered by tight clothing.

OTHER REASONS
Take him up when he cries, change his position, give him an opportunity to bring up gas by belching. Turn him on his stomach. Offer him water (between feedings, not right afterwards) and try to find other reasons, than hunger, for the apparent discomfort.

Our leaflet, "Feeding From Two to Twelve Months," may be had for a self-addressed and stamped envelope sent to Myrtle Meyer Elder of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper. It will show you the ordinary steps in diet during this first year.

WAS IT THE HEAT?

merchant who bought sheep farm in the Clover hills—was going over the hills with the shepherd on a cold wet day; the wind was blowing from the northeast and the sheep were lying contentedly on the north side of a hill. Says the merchant to the shepherd—"If I was a sheep, I would choose to lie on the south side of the hill." Says Donal—"Aye mon, but ye see, yer no' a sheep."

Since writing the above I have received to-day's (Monday) Times and now come to the conclusion that the heat wave has nothing to do with the fore-and-aft criticism of the Foreign Office. W. ROBERTSON.

Editor's Note:—The heat wave also must have afflicted our correspondent. The full result of the plebiscite, which took several months to conduct, was not revealed until last June 26. It is a safe bet that British government will attach more significance to the outcome of the plebiscite than our correspondent does, heat or no heat. At any rate, Lord Robert Cecil, who instigated the balloting, thinks it will, and history does not record the Cecil being influenced by meteorological conditions.

SAANICH HEALTH REPORT

To the Editor:—Dr. David Bergman, in a lengthy health report published in your issue of July 13 (paragraph 6) says that "in the past school term vaccination against smallpox and immunization against diphtheria is done every year as a routine. During the past school term alone we have vacinated over 700 and protected against diphtheria over 500 children; consequently we have had no smallpox for six years and no diphtheria for five years."

The word "consequently" is, in my opinion, ill chosen, for any layman who studies matters of health, and many medical men can affirm that neither process confers protection or immunity and that the greatest epidemics of smallpox, in the one case, and the greatest increase of diphtheria in the other, have been known to follow the "protective" processes.

Dr. Bergman's assumption is that but for his agency in Saanich, there would necessarily have been outbreaks of these two complaints, but on the other hand, there is no proof whatsoever that there would have been.

In the beginning of the report it is stated that "in the past few years practically all our infections could be traced to city contacts," which is rather damning to a city sufficiently well drained and supplied with pure water to be considered healthy, unless the "contacts" were Saanich residents, by any chance.

A healthy subject is less likely to contract an infectious disease, so it would appear that Saanich also had some unhealthy inhabitants. Money spent on good drainage, pure water and proper housing and living is never wasted.

U. S. 197508 has been vaccinated, and does not contract smallpox; this is claimed as a triumph for vaccination. If a person is not vaccinated and does not contract smallpox, is not this—by the same reasoning—a triumph for non-vaccination? The same would apply to inoculation.

In conclusion, I regret that there is not space in this letter to include a leading article in the June number of the Medical Times, entitled "1910-1935." If the criticism of modern medical methods is not too audacious it is largely because "we have been hampered in our progress by the fact that we have become the veritable slaves of the laboratory and research worker."

DORA KITTO,
Honorary Secretary, Canadian Anti-vivisection Society, Victoria.

EVOLUTION

To the Editor:—It is quite evident from Mr. Sander's letter last week that the evolutionists have, as anti-ipated, no answer to the question as to the origin of matter, mind and life, apart from God; for He is the answer! Any amount of "beating around the bush" will not satisfy an intelligent inquirer and least of all, a believer in the Lord Jesus Christ, to wit: a born-again man! In spite of what "so-called scientists" may assert, no inquirer is satisfied with the vain attempt (no matter how long the epistles and how big the words used) to elucidate the problem of the origin of everything by stating that all matter, mind and life originated in the slime of pools, ponds or puddles, for he insists on being explained when and how originated: slime, pools, ponds and puddles, as well as the supposedly "life-creating" ultra violet rays, one and all!

Neither is he satisfied with the answer, in relation to the inter-continuity of species, that "at various times and in diverse places, a few scattered bones, found in the ground or in the rocks, which cleverly re-constructed by the fertile brains of the evolutionists into some animal of their imagination or of their wish, and thus introduced to him, the believer, is one of his ancestral animal progenitors! If evolution, or the transition of forms is an established fact, he wants to meet some of the countless living intermediate specimens either swimming, crawling, walking, running, jumping or flying right in his city or its surrounding country!

He refuses to listen to the grotesque tales of a Willem Van Loon and his ilk. He is quite willing to let these people choose a monkey or an ape for their ancestors, but he, through the knowledge acquired through the reading of that unsurpassed book of books, the Bible, written in a language of such sublime simplicity, traces himself back a truer and loftier origin, namely, the Almighty God in whose image he was created! The believer knows that there is not the slightest physical, mental, moral or spiritual affinity between the highest form of brute animal and himself. He knows that between the two an impassable gulf is fixed, namely: Man's innate religious sentiment and the faculty of speech whereby his soul audibly glorifies his Creator! What would one think of the mentality of a child that would listen, without a protest of indignation at his supposed credulity, to an adult telling him that at some remote time in the past, out of nowhere into the somewhere, nothing became something, which something grew and developed and evolved into the marvelous 60,000-ton ocean liner, fully equipped, fully manned, ready to sail, which he is just admiring; and all this by mere chance, without the pre-conceived idea nor the building and maintenance ability of the clever brains of an engineer! This suggestion, at which even the evolutionists would weepfully laugh, evolutionists would like sane men and women to believe about the coming into being of this marvelous universe!

When the undeniable curse now resting on men and nature, on account of man's sin, shall be removed, then shall all things be brought back to that original state of perfection man fell from. Therefore, not through a process of evolution, but through regeneration in Christ shall man recover his lost estate. Oh! that men would praise the Lord for His unspeakable wisdom, and give Him for everything the glory; for He alone is worthy!

Disastrous Slump Cuts New York Giants' Lead To Four Games

THE SPORTS MIRROR

Babe Ruth is gone. Charley Grimm, manager of the Chicago Cubs, bowed out of the ranks of the active combatants this spring, and his handling Kiki Cuyler his unconditional release reminds you that numerous members of the old baseball guard are having their troubles this season.

Imagine the Chicago White Sox benching the great and costly Al Simmons for failure to hit!

Pit Traylor admits that the combined duties of piloting and playing third base for the Pittsburgh Pirates are too much for him. Handicapped for a time by a nose infection that affected his sight, the renowned down-caster was hitting only .236 when he benched himself for the third time.

Rube Herman, who recently returned to the Cincinnati Reds via the waiver route, probably is having his last trial. Travis Jackson is hitting only .235 for the New York Giants and there are unmistakable signs that he is catching up with him. Jim Bottomley is going better than he did last year, but is being carried by the Reds only because they cannot locate a replacement.

Trader Hornsby put over his smartest piece of business when he took Julius Soto and cash from the Boston Red Sox for the veteran Oscar Melillo, who was well baked under the St. Louis sun. Melillo is hitting only .217. The only advantage Melillo has over Max Bishop, who hangs on with the Red Sox, is durability.

Each week furnishes additional evidence that the once-famed long-range hitter, Chuck Klein, is lost out of the Philadelphia handbook. The Hoosier can't get out of the .260's with the Cubs to save his soul.

Lyn Lary's cause approached hopelessness when Bucky Harris gave up on him in Washington. Harris was very fond of Lary, and had high hopes for the Californian. But even if you are a Houdini at shortstop you can't play with a major league outfit and hit no more than .197, so Lary went to the Athletics in an even swap for the equally disappointing Alan Strange.

Red Kress, who looked so good with the Senators in spring training, was benched for the same reason that shipped Lary down the river. His batting average is .199, and he is trying his hand at pitching.

Given his chance after years of underestimating Ruth in New York, Sammy Byrd has been unable to get going for the Reds. Johnny Burnett has made the St. Louis Browns look only more naturalized than the same catcher, who he said about Johnny Verge and the little Phils.

Brooklyn tried to trade Jersey Joe Stripp before the June 15 deadline, and it is reported that the third baseman may go to the Boston Braves on waivers. Jimmy Bucher took his job with the Dodgers.

Johnny Lender's inability to hit with anything like his previous consistency has been one of the principal reasons why the Flatbush entry has been falling like a plummet. The Mississippi is hitting only .239.

Beaten Again By Cincinnati; Cards Still On Rampage

Latter Whip Boston 2 to 1 Behind Great Hurling of Veteran Haines

YANKEES BOOST AMERICAN LEAD

Red Birds of St. Louis are cutting down the staff on which the New York Giants hung their pennant hopes.

Even as year ago, Cardinals have begun a belated drive which has reduced the National Baseball League lead of the Giants to four games. Cards are getting stronger and Giants, figured easy winners a few short weeks ago, have been cuffed by injuries and loss of form.

New York fans who contemplated a "nickle series" look dolefully to September's final story. The Deans have hit their stride. Dizzy leads both leagues in the number of games won and Willie Hallahan has come out of his slump to pitch some of the finest ball of his career.

Philles shelled Roy Henshaw out of the box with a four-run blast in the second inning to chalk up a 7 to 5 win over Chicago Cubs.

Old Tom Zachary pulled some tricks from his aging satchel to give Brooklyn Dodgers a 3 to 2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Johnny Allen returned to early season form as New York Yankees, leading the American League, defeated the third-place Chicago White Sox, 2 to 0. The victory, coupled with the defeat of Detroit Tigers, widened Yankees' lead to two and a half games.

The Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Tigers 8 to 2 as Jimmy Fox hit his seventeenth homer and the St. Louis Browns won their second straight game from Washington, 6 to 4, to square their series.

COAST LEAGUE
Goat League baseball teams are going in for closer and longer ball games.

Hollywood and Seattle set the pace yesterday evening, battling for twelve long innings before the Stars edged out the winning run. The score was 6 to 5. Twenty-five hits and a total of four errors kept the runs coming.

San Francisco and Portland put on another overtime game as the Seals won in the eleventh inning, 6 to 3. Joe Maggion, as usual, played a big part in the Seal victory. He rapped out four hits and scored two runs, including the winning score in the eleventh. He has hit safely in twenty-three consecutive games.

Oakland bunched most of its hits in one inning to score six runs, as they defeated Los Angeles 6 to 0. The Missions outslugged Sacramento to win the series opener 8 to 5, but the victory was costly. Eddie Joost, young third sacker, was hit in the face by a ground ball and had to be taken to a hospital.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

Sultan Abdul Aziz of Turkey, thirty-second sultan of the Ottoman empire, believed that when he stopped building palaces he would die—his strange belief was destined to come true. For when he deposed him in 1897 he was no longer able to build his palaces and he died, by his own hand.

Fear of death and fire marked his whole career. Many times, when he was seized by a sudden terror of fire, he would have whatever palace he was in stripped of everything inflammable—even to the candles. The only light he would permit at night was that of a single candle set in a large pail of water.

Other eccentricities of his mind were evidenced by his passion for cock fighting, his love for European carriages and pianos, and the hundreds of parrots, lions and tigers that he imported from Africa and India.

After a cock fight he caused the winning bird to be decorated, while the loser was banished to live in a darkened coop. He had his pianos everywhere he went—even to having them carried along with him and played en route.

His extravagances ran the country into debt with little to show for it. Late in his reign revolt broke out in parts of the empire, and finally he was forced to abdicate on May 30, 1876. Less than a week later they found him in his apartment—a suicide.

To-morrow: Prison Tree.

TAYLOR HORSE WINS FEATURE

Sundad Lifts Handicap at Brighthouse Over Five Furlongs; Dead Heat Seen

Vancouver, July 17.—Vancouver racegoers at Brighthouse Park yesterday saw the first dead heat here in several seasons when Anita Ormont and Princess A A flashed under the wire so close together in the sixth race that judges were unable to pick the winner.

Under an impost of 126 pounds, Sundad, Miss Kathleen Taylor's brilliant two-year-old, established himself as the outstanding youngster "staying on" Vancouver racetrack this summer when he outgamed Hedon to take the feature Surrey Handicap.

Hedon forced Sundad at full speed for the entire five-furlongs and only faltered at the wire. The time for the five furlongs was one minute flat. It was a four-horse race.

Track and Field Team and Swimmers Looking For More Laurels in Outside Meets This Season; Tracksters Go to Caledonia Games

Midway through their summer schedule, Y.M.C.A. athletes are looking forward to three or four outside track meets and two or three swimming events of some size in which to demonstrate their prowess.

Provided sanction is given the meet by the British Columbia track and field body, some of the association fliers will perform at the Sooke Field Day scheduled next Wednesday. On August 3 a small team will go to Vancouver for the Caledonia Games at Hastings Park, and a large squad will take part in the Nanaimo-Vancouver Island Championships at the Coal City on Labor Day. In addition there is a strong probability Powell River will stage another big meet, to which the local Y will be invited.

Those events, coupled with the Navy Week sports and the big meet sponsored by the Civic Federation, will give the Victoria track stars lots of activity during the next few weeks. In the swimming division, some of the association's distance performers are scheduled to enter The Times Swim on August 3, and will probably take in the Shawinigan Lake regatta on July 27 and the Deep Cove meet some time in the near future.

CALEDONIAN GAMES TEAM
For the Caledonia Games, Archie MacKinnon, coach, is expected to take over Joe Addison's Chuck Cunningham, Bill Dale, Paul Rowe and possibly Freddy Smith, Henry Rowe and other juniors. There is also a chance Archie Chapman, high jumper and hurdler, and Arnie Phillips, sprinter, with Alec Gaunt, middle-distance man, may compete. Provided he can make the trip, Jim Cousins, outstanding Malahat schoolboy high jumper, will also be entered.

A compact team, including some of the above athletes, will probably go to Powell River if that meet is staged. One of the biggest teams that has ever represented the Y.M.C.A. in outside points is expected to go up to Nanaimo on Labor Day for the Vancouver Island championships.

In addition to the men mentioned for the Caledonia Games, McKinnon hopes to send up a strong girls' team, including Virginia Hall, Zoe Richards, Margaret Dewhurst, Mickey Waite and Stella Welsh.

BIG CONTINGENT
Others who make the trip include Chuck Stevens, Lorne McGregor, Fred Smith, Bill Potter, Lorne Ritchie, Bill Thompson, Bob Drummond-Hay, Ralph Shepherd, Jack Ferguson, Clarence Durbin, Wilson Johnson, Dick Trigg, Cliff Gay, Harry Clarke, Chris McEneaney, Jack Allison and Fred Noel.

With continued practice at their regular handicaps, the association runners have kept in very fair shape since they started their training in earnest several weeks ago. They should be in the pink of condition when they go after laurels in the various divisions and assure outside contenders plenty of competition when they pull on their spikes.

In the swimming lists the associations team is not quite as strong as it has been in former years. However, the brother-sister combination of Don and Ruby Davidson is strong enough to push the best in town. Don has been coming along rapidly and is now rated one of the best freestyle men in Victoria, even though his specialty is backstroke.

SCOTTISH NET PLAYERS WIN

Defeat Canadian Touring Squad 6 to 2 in International "Test Series"

Peelies, Scotland, July 17.—Scotland beat Canada six matches to two in the international tennis "test series" ending yesterday.

Canada's only victory of the second day, in men's doubles, was achieved after a terrific five-set struggle in which Laird Watt and Bobby Murray, Montreal, defeated I. G. Collins and McPhail, 4-6, 5-7, 7-5, 6-2, 6-3.

SCHMELING IS SEEKING BAER

German Heavyweight Prefers Maxie to Louis For Bout in September

New York, July 17.—Apparently holding the whiphand for the time being in the scramble for the next big heavyweight match in New York, matchmaker James J. Johnson regarded with complacency yesterday the latest word from Germany, indicating Max Schmeling prefers to meet Max Baer next September, under Madison Square Garden's auspices, instead of tackling Joe Louis, the "brown bomber."

"Why not?" asked Johnson. "Schmeling is smart. He wants a title shot. He knows he can get it only by fighting for the garden. Besides, he's under contract, notwithstanding anything else you hear."

The New York State Athletic Commission declared to keep hands off the heavyweight tangle, pending application for definite dates.

Chicago, July 17.—Craving for action, Joe Louis, the "brown bomber" from Detroit, arrived yesterday ready to settle down to training for his ten-round bout with King Levinsky at the White Sox Ball Park the night of August 7.

Louis has been vacationing since his sensational knockout victory over Primo Carnera last month, but has become tired of inactivity, and is ready to go to work.

Levinaky, due to-morrow after two weeks of roughing it in the woods near Tomahawk, Wis., already has a training camp at Round Lake, Ill., ready for him.

McCarthy Signed For Two Seasons

New York, July 17.—Joe McCarthy, manager of New York Yankees since 1931, yesterday was signed by Col. Jacob Ruppert to pilot the club in 1936 and 1937.

Signing of McCarthy for two years at the same terms was Ruppert's answer to the rumors the former Chicago Cub manager would be ousted when his current contract terminated this year and Babe Ruth given the job.

MAY GO AFTER SWIM LAURELS

West Vancouver Gafa on July 27 May Attract Local Contestants

Possibility of several Victoria swimmers seeking Pacific Coast International outdoor swimming laurels and junior British Columbia championships at the Dunbar gale of the West Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club on July 27 was seen here today.

Colin McPadyen, coach of the V.A.S.C., hopes to take a team of four across to the West Vancouver meet, while Molly Wallis may also compete in the events for the Pacific Cup.

McPadyen expects to take over Monica Trump, Canadian breaststroke champion, and Bobby Moss, with two others.

BANFF GOLF WEEK IS SET

Annual Tournament Will Be Staged at Popular Summer Resort Aug. 26 to 31

Banff, Alberta, July 17.—The sixth annual golf week for the Prince of Wales trophy, the Willingdon Cup, the Associated Screen News Cup and the Brewster Cup is now on the 1935 sports map with the completion of the official programme just off the press at Banff Springs Hotel.

Ideal golfing weather in the Canadian Pacific resort in the mountains has brought a sudden influx of registrations and inquiries. It was stated today by R.R. Coys, manager. Guests intending to make but a brief stop in the mountains are reconsidering their plans to take in the tournament slated for August 26 to 31.

Amateur golfers who are members in good standing in any recognized golf clubs are eligible to compete and entry forms, procurable from the manager, secretary or Canadian Pacific Railway agents, should reach the secretary not later than twenty-four hours before the date of commencement.

Teams of four, eighteen holes medal play, will be arranged after the entries are received and will represent various localities. The qualifying round of the Prince of Wales opens at 8 o'clock Monday August 26 and at 2 o'clock the same day the companion tournament for women, for the Brewster Cup will open with the qualifying round over eighteen holes.

For the Willingdon Cup the first eighteen holes medal play begins at 8 o'clock Wednesday August 28 and the companion competition for women for the Associated Screen News Cup gets under way at 11 o'clock the same day.

With alpine settings more than ordinarily fine because of the early season moisture and the consequent verdure of the great hills has made this sports course on the roof of the world surpass its own record for beauty and perfect golfing conditions.

Cordova Bay Club To Stage Regatta

A well-attended meeting of the Cordova Bay Recreation Club was held recently, when officers for the ensuing year were elected and tentative plans drawn up for the staging of the twenty-fifth annual regatta at Cordova Bay. No definite date was set for the event. The newly-elected officers and members of the club, along with the various committees, will extend every effort to make this year's affair one of the most successful in years.

Additional committees will be elected at a meeting to be held to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock at the Little Arctic. It is quite possible a date for the regatta will also be chosen.

George W. Russell was named president; T. Y. Baldwin, vice-president; R. Hughes, secretary, and S.M. Newell, treasurer. Messrs. E. Williams, G. S. McMoran, A. M. Anderson, R. Winter and M. Squires were named members of the directorate.

Reverend William Crouch, Saanich, was elected honorary president, and W. C. Moresby, K.C., honorary vice-president. Norman W. Whitaker was appointed club solicitor.

Both Defending Titlists Eliminated In Western Canada Tennis

Mel Dranga and Mrs. Gross Drop Three-set Tilts

Former Defeated By Youthful Bob Pommer; Oswald Opens Play To-day

FAVORITES IN DOUBLES WINS

Canadian Press
Vancouver, July 17.—Two of their number gone as a result of yesterday's upsets, seeded stars in the men's and women's sections to-day prepared to battle for quarter and semi-final berths as play in the events narrowed down in the western Canada grass courts tennis championships.

Worth Oswald, seeded number one in the draw, is slated for his first action of the tourney, meeting H. McKibbin, Vancouver, in the first round with Paul Newton, Berkeley, in the second, providing the British Columbian does not surprise.

With Mel Dranga, Seattle, defending champion, eliminated by Bob Pommer's stunning 4-6, 6-4, 6-3 victory yesterday, Worth and John Murio, San Francisco, are strong favorites for the final. Murio will tackle Ben Neiden, Berkeley, in a fourth round match.

In the women's singles, Mrs. Mary Haggart, young Vancouver matron, was conceded to be one of Canada's best hopes in the feminine division following her 4-6, 6-3, 10-8 victory over Mrs. Gilda Gross, Berkeley, defending titlist, in the second upset of the day.

Guise Raengener, San Francisco, top ranked in the tourney has V. O'Shea, Vancouver, as an opponent in a third round match to-day. Play in the women's and mixed doubles opened yesterday with United States teams sharing advances with British Columbians.

Buyers Interested In Cleveland Club

Cleveland, July 17.—Alva Bradley, president of the Cleveland Baseball Club, said yesterday New York and Cleveland brokers recently made inquiries on a purchase price for the Indians.

The Cleveland offer was $750,000, Bradley said, but the brokers were informed of less than $1,350,000 would not be considered. Bradley said sale of the club in the immediate future was unlikely.

Joe Savoldi Gets Year Suspension

Chicago, July 17.—Joe Savoldi, heavyweight wrestler from Three Oaks, Mich., yesterday was suspended by the Illinois State Athletic Commission for one year, for failure to go through with a match with Danny O'Mahoney, newly-crowned champion, at Mills stadium Monday night.

Savoldi wired the promoters Monday from New York, advising them he had been injured. George Zaharias, Pueblo, Colo., substituted for Savoldi.

Lawson Little Returns Home

Recent Winner of British Amateur Golf Crown Travels Third Class

New York, July 17.—Traveling third class with the tourist trade to save $23 daily, W. Lawson Little, Jr., arrived yesterday on the liner Majestic from England, disdaining any fanfare over his accomplishment in capturing the British amateur golf crown for the second straight year.

Little said he planned to remain in the east a week or two, then stop off in Chicago for a golf lesson from Tommy Armour before returning to his home in San Francisco. He is not satisfied with his grip in hitting full shots and hopes Armour can straighten out this difficulty.

Little has an invitation to call at the White House but does not know just when he will go to Washington. "I'll tell you why I traveled third class," Little said. "In the first place I had about $1,500 for the entire trip. When I left England last week my funds were almost exhausted, so I decided to travel third class, which is some $139 cheaper than first class. The trip took six days so you see I saved $834 a day. But I like to look at it from the standpoint that I made $23 a day and that's something in these days."

There are many fine doubles combinations listed amongst the ranks of the visitors, including Sabin and Cooke, Portland; Bennett and Newton, Seattle; Ray Casey and John Law; Gene Smith and Mel Dranga; Ben Neiden and Howard Brethen and Pommer and Rosenberg. Mixed combinations are also worthy of attention with Margaret Laird and Ray Casey, Catharine Rose and Ben Neiden, Mrs. Gross and Dick Bennett, Jane Stanton and Wayne Sabin, Eleanor Dawson and Gene Smith paired. A strong pair, although unusual, will be the two left handers, Gussie Raenger and Howard Blithen.

Mrs. Gross and Miss Raenger, Margaret Laird and Catharine Rose, are strong-looking women's doubles duos. Entries are pouring in from all over the Pacific Coast, and the seat sale is also progressing favorably. Reservations can be made at Hocking and Forbes, Douglas Street.

Third Place Goes To Munroe Bourne

Blackpool, England, July 17.—A new British record of 2 min 18.5-sec. for the 220-yard freestyle championship was established by N. Wainwright, England, in the British Amateur Swimming Association's meet yesterday.

The former record of 2 min. 30.1-sec. was set by G. F. Lazen, Canada, a year ago. Johnny Weismuller's world record, set eight years ago, is 2 min. 9 sec.

Munroe Bourne, Montreal, was third in 2 min. 28.3-sec.

RIDLEY AND CALGARY TIE

Each Side Scores 117 Runs in Exhibition Cricket; Collegians to Coast

Calgary, July 17.—Ridley College's touring cricket team staged a rousing finish here yesterday and held a Calgary representative eleven to a drawn match, each side scoring 117 runs in an encounter featured by several dramatic changes in fortune.

The St. Catherine's collegians defeated another Calgary eleven Monday by 199 runs to 119. It also brought Ridley's record to date to five victories, two defeats, one drawn match and a tie. The college team will next play Vancouver representative sides Friday and Saturday.

The tide of fortune changed several times during the contest, which was played in ideal weather. Ridley started off poorly, but at lunchtime had scored ninety-one runs for three wickets. Then there was a sensational collapse, Cyril Falck, Calgary and Alberta all-round star, taking six wickets for nine runs after the interval, with the last seven Ridley batsmen adding only twenty-four runs and the whole side was out for 117 runs.

BOWLERS DOMINATE

Calgary began well and appeared to have the game clinched when Eric Ellaby and Bert Cole put on forty-five runs for the first wicket. Ridley bowlers then got the upper hand and dismissed six batsmen for an addition of sixteen runs and Calgary appeared to be in for a second defeat with the scoreboard showing seven wickets down for sixty-four runs.

Elgar Roberts and Phil Griffiths, however, put on fifty-nine runs in an eighth-wicket stand which again changed the complexion of the game. Calgary looked certain for a victory with two wickets in hand and only four runs needed to win. With the game all square, however, the last man in was run out attempting to sneak a short run.

W. E. N. Bell, Ridley, was again high scorer of the match with fifty-seven runs, bringing his total for the tour to 264 runs in eight innings. Scandrett was the only other Ridley batsman to get into double figures, scoring twenty-three and adding Bell to put on twenty-four runs in a fourth-wicket stand.

For Ridley, Purcell and Bell were

Relief Cases

The Friendly Help Welfare Association is not disposed to withdraw all its services from the city's relief cases, a course suggested by the council recently, according to a letter received at the city hall to-day over the signature of Elizabeth Grubb, general secretary.

"Our committee was not quite clear as to the meaning of the last paragraph and would be grateful if you would explain this further," the letter said.

MAYOR OPENS NEW STATION

Standard Stations Has Its
First Unit Operating; Features
All B.C. Products

Mayor David Leeming officially opened the new station of the Standard Stations Limited, at the corner of Yates and Blanshard streets this morning. After brief remarks, the mayor officially declared the new station open.

W. W. Kingston, superintendent of retail sales for Standard Stations Limited, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of British Columbia Limited, was in the city for the opening.

The smart appearance and modern design of the service station have given rise to much comment during the time of construction, and special interest is being aroused through the knowledge that it is built by an all-British Columbia company, handling products refined in the province by utilizing British Columbia supplies and labor.

The opening was marked by the presentation of corsages to lady patrons and candies to the children. Similar presentations will be made to-morrow. This station is the first to be established by the Standard Oil Company of British Columbia Limited, in Victoria, but it is planned to add other branches in the future.

All stations will carry the distinctive "Chevron Sign" and will be of modern architecture. The colors of red, white and blue are adhered to throughout.

The new station handles Standard Bihyl, Standard Unsurpassed and Red Crown gasoline. Standard Penn, Zeroline and Flight oils insure a high quality in lubrication.

The tire service department carries Atlas and Atlas Junior tires, the battery department carries Atlas batteries, and Atlas accessories are on hand. The lubrication department is fully equipped for proper care of this service.

Three Victoria men are attendants at the new station. The station staff consists of G. Fanning, C. B. Mitchell and D. A. McKenzie, all well known in the city. Each member of the staff has undergone a special course of instruction in a school instituted by Standard Oil Company, thus making all thoroughly competent to handle any type of service.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

Beverly Hills, July 17.—To the Editor of The Times: Say, wait a minute. This heat out here is just as tough as it is anywhere. Went down and spoke to some lawyers meeting last night. They didn't think much of my little squib yesterday about driving the shysters out of their profession. They seemed to kinder doubt just who would have to leave. Pretty serious, some of 'em, but the big percentage are regular guys and three ex-cabinet members there from three different presidents. Hurley, Secretary of War under Mr. Hoover; Wilbur, Secretary of Navy under Mr. Coolidge, and Will Hays, who elected and served under Mr. Harding. New governor of Maryland, Governor Nice, seemed a fine fellow and he accomplished something. I told him, you best Man of War, Ex-governor Ritchey.

Yours,
Will Rogers

TO REPAIR TRACK WAY

B.C. Electric to Improve One Block on Fort and Section of Cook Street

The British Columbia Railway Company will make an immediate start on repairs to the pavement between car tracks on Fort Street for the block between Vancouver and Cook Streets, according to a communication from A. T. Goward, vice-president, on the city file to-day.

He expressed the opinion the city's public works executive would be satisfied with the work, which will give the council an idea of what the railway company intends to do in the matter of track repair.

Referring to Cook Street, between Pakenham and May Streets, Mr. Goward stated the company had refrained from repairing the paving according to the terms of its franchise on the understanding the city would be carrying on similar work and the project might have been done more economically at one time. However, Mr. Goward's letter stated, since the city was not undertaking the work at present, owing to lack of funds, the company would proceed at once with repairs, although, without the city's assistance, it would be more costly than anticipated.

Candidate Is Guest of Honor

Reception For Prof. King
Gordon Held By C.C.F.

A reception for Professor King Gordon, C.C.F. candidate in Victoria federal riding, was held at the C.C.F. Hall, Fort Street, yesterday evening.

Prof. Gordon, who recently returned from the east after accepting the nomination offered by the local organization of the party, said he had found himself driven into politics, although he had always hated politicians and shrank back from the very idea of political life.

Through the C.C.F. he believed, the people of Canada faced a new frontier of social and economic security. Under the present system the wilderness was creeping in upon people so that while food and clothing decayed and rotted in warehouses, they were compelled to return to a more or less primitive form of living.

As a student missionary, said the candidate, he had come first to British Columbia eleven years ago. He had thought that through the agency of the church he could be of use to his fellow Canadians. But after studying the economic aspects of society he had felt compelled to take part in reorganizing his life.

Opportunity was provided for those attending the reception to meet the candidate personally.

A programme of dramatic and musical selections was given, the contributing artists including Miss Faith Bailey, Robert Hunt, G. F. Finnmore, R. Abbott, A. Le Marquand and H. Broughton.

Rev. Robert Connell, M.P.P., recited a poem which dealt with innuendoes in politics. William Speed was chairman.

TOUR COLLEGE VISITS CITY

Botany Professor Brings Whole Class From Ohio on Field Work Trip

Botany students of Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, near Cincinnati, have field work that is field work.

This was made apparent yesterday afternoon when a forty-passenger motor bus arrived with Dr. Arthur T. Evans, professor of Botany, and thirty-six of his men and women pupils.

They are on an eight week 9,000-mile tour of the western part of this continent, studying and gathering specimens in the various areas they visit. Packed in the bus is all their baggage and camping equipment.

His bearded college botany department stops as long as necessary to carry out work at any place and moves on to the next. Prof. Evans explained. Professor and students camp out every night in the woods. They "soak" every weekend, but usually buy their lunches and dinners at some town. He said it was the real way to study botany.

The big loaded bus came through Anacortes a few days ago by ferry to San Juan Island, where the students have been based at the United States Oceanographic Laboratory at Friday Harbor. This morning they came across on the early ferry to Sidney. They spent the rest of the morning at Butcher's Gardens.

"I have seen nothing to surpass these gardens," said Professor Evans when the travelling college dined up in front of the Dominion Hotel at 1 o'clock this afternoon for luncheon. "It is a most inspiring example of public spiritedness on the part of Mr. Butcher."

Professor George Riggs of the University of Washington botany department and Dr. John Gubert of Washington's zoology department were with the party while they were in the Puget Sound area.

From Victoria the party will cross by ferry to Port Angeles and from there go south by the Coast route, studying the big trees and other growths in the Olympic Peninsula forests.

WOULD SUE FOR FLOOD DAMAGES

The provincial government holds that it cannot be responsible for damage done to private property by floods due to the heavy rains of early July combined with melting snows.

Settlers in the Okanagan district between Enderby and Mable Lake have written threatening to sue the government for their losses. The government, however, will not issue the necessary fiat for them to go to court.

The government itself has taken a loss as well. On the road east of Enderby four bridges were washed out and repairs will cost over $10,000.

Many Honor Late James E. Painter

The First Baptist Church was filled with the many friends desirous of paying their last respects to the late James Edward Painter—Sr., well-known in old-timer, for whom funeral services were held yesterday afternoon.

The hymns "Peace, Perfect Peace" and "Art Thou Weary, Art Thou Languid?" were sung by the congregation, accompanied at the organ by Oliver R. Stout, church organist. James Dinmore and S. Honeychurch sang as a duet, "When My Final Farewell"

Interment was in the family plot in Rose Bay Cemetery, where the graveside service was conducted by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Acting Chaplain W. A. Noel and Acting Noble P. A. Maclean officiated.

CIVIC STAFF TAKES GAME

Defeat Bert Waude's 6 to 4 in A Section Softball; Silent Glows Default

Dropping a 6 to 4 decision to the Civic Staff softballers at the Athletic Park yesterday evening, Bert Waude's missed a chance of taking over second place in the league standing in the senior A section. The defeat left the hairdressers in a tie with Silent Glows, both teams having twenty points to their credit, while the league-leading Brunston's Boys are out in front with twenty-four points.

Waude's still have one postponed game to play, which, if they win, will put them just a notch behind the Esquimalt boys.

The Brunston's Boys, added two more points to their standing when Silent Glows, who have been leading them all season, defaulted their scheduled game to the league leaders. New Method Laundry handed the lowly Army squad a 22 to 8 drubbing at Work Point Barracks to remain in the championship running. Although the former city and island champions have only fourteen points to their credit, they have two postponed games to play. Civic Staff are tied with the New Method nine in points, but have only one postponed game in hand. Army brings up the rear in the "wandering" eight-pointers.

TURNER PITCHES WELL
Civic Staff played great ball behind the masterly pitching of Turner, their star twirler. Their defensive play, particularly in the pinches, featured the game. With both teams unable to send home a runner, the first inning ended in a scoreless tie. The hairdressers broke into the scoring column in the second frame with a lone marker, but their opponents evened up the count to score once in their half of the inning. Turner, retired Bert Waude in short order in the second. It was at this stage that the Civic Staff made their first bid for victory. Timely hitting and smart base running on the part of the civic boys put A. McBride, Waude's pitcher, on the spot for the first time during the game, and before the side could be retired, they had sent in two runs to take the lead 3 to 1.

Three more goose eggs greeted the hairdressers for their attempts in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings. Another spurge of hits in the sixth produced two more runs for Civic Staff, to boost their lead to 5 to 1, with three innings to go. Bert Waude made their opponents and the fans sit up and take notice as they pounded the ball hard in their half of the seventh to score two runs to put them two behind the Civic Staff, but the service nine replied with a lone marker to end the seventh with a 6 to 2 advantage.

The hairdressers threatened to tie up the game in the eighth, but a smart double play by Civic Staff, McConnell to Cox to Henley, with one down, retired the side. Another unrelated rally in the ninth produced the run.

Score by innings:
Civic Staff 012002100-6
Bert Waude 010000201-4
Batteries—Turner and Chapman; A McBride and M. McBride.

WIN EASILY
New Method Laundry had no trouble downing the Army at Work Point Barracks as they walloped the soldiers 22 to 8 in a game that was featured by the heavy slugging on the part of the laundry nine and loose fielding by the Army. Glendinning, who opened on the mound for the soldiers, was given a rough time at the hands of his opponents, who slammed his offerings to all corners of the field to score practically at will.

Brunston's Boys picked up a couple of cheap points when Silent Glows defaulted. The brunstoners decided at the last moment not to field a team out of respect to the mother of Jimmy Sumner, their first baseman, who passed away yesterday.
The three leading teams in the women's softball section came through with wins. Kregg's Cardinals smothered the ever-losing C.Y.F.C. 30 to 8, at Spencer's Park, while the Live Wires were having just as big a gala night as they trounced Kregg's Reds 33 to 6 at Central Park. North Saanich Service Club won by default from the Hudson's Bay.

STAR IN MEXICAN ROMANCE

Over the border, into the sun-kissed Mexican paradise of girls, laughter and song, go Dolores Del Rio, Pat O'Brien, Edward Everett Horton and a score more of Hollywood favorites in "In Caliente," a new Warner Bros. musical, which comes to the Capitol Theatre to-day.

All this talk about over-tension is pure bosh. Every player on the squad ought to be playing at least five sets every day.

In direct contradiction to Big Bill's theories only Wilmer Allison and Gene Maize visited the practice courts yesterday. "The entire squad planned to engage in an hour's workout today and to-morrow on the No. 1 court, where the Davis Cup matches will be played, starting Saturday. The draw, to be made to-morrow, is expected to find Allison and nineteen-year-olds Donald Budge, California sensation, named for the singles assignments. Allison and John Van Ryn appear to be the logical doubles choices.

GOOD TENNIS SEEN AT MEET

Competition Keen as Esquimalt Tournament Moves Through Second Week

As play in the Esquimalt tennis championships at the Hillcrest Club courts moved through its second week, competition in the various matches appeared much keener, with the players finding it more difficult to advance. Yesterday's matches produced three extra-set affairs, as both the men's singles and one of the consolation singles went to three sets before arriving at a decision.

Herb Davy, Hillcrest Club, put up a gallant struggle before going down to defeat at the hands of Bob Stewart, 6-2, 2-6, 8-6. There was little to choose between either player in this match, as Stewart took the opening set, only to have his opponent come back to even matters in the second. The third and final set was bitterly contested, with both players striving for the upper hand. With the score tied at six games all, Stewart finally broke through Davy's service and then captured his own service to take the set and match at 8-6.

WRIGHT DROPS SET
A. Wright rallied strongly after dropping the initial set to V. Hicks at 1-6, and took the next two sets and match, 6-3, 6-3. Hicks looked as though he was going to take the match in straight sets, as he only allowed his opponent one game in seven in the opening set. Beautiful placements and a strong service gave Wright the advantage in the last two sets as Hicks appeared to wilt under the pressure.

Living Allowance Farmers' Demand

Saskatoon, July 17.—George R. Bickerton, Neola, was elected president of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, by acclamation yesterday evening. He was vice-president of the organization and had been one of its most active public speakers. J. F. Herman, retiring president, and J. L. Phelps, Wilkie, were nominated but declined to stand.

Robert H. Milliken, legal adviser to the farm organization, speaking of the natural farm products marketing act, expressed himself as generally satisfied with the measure, but he considered improvements inevitable after experience. He believed the plan of taking a vote of the producers, followed in regard to the poultry scheme, to be a mistake.
The retiring president, J. K. Herman, addressing the convention, said:
"We will call on all farmers to demand as their right out of this crop, and crops to come, sufficient for a proper living allowance, $550 for a family of four."
Farmers were justified in instituting a revolt against present-day conditions, he said.

"IN CALIENTE" AT CAPITOL TO-DAY

Popular Musical Feature Stars Dolores Del Rio

"In Caliente," First National's latest musical, opens at the Capitol Theatre to-day. Its all star cast is headed by Dolores Del Rio, Pat O'Brien, Leo Carillo and Edward Everett Horton.

Scores of beautiful Hollywood chorus girls appear in numbers created and directed by Busby Berkeley, who staged the big hit in "Gold Diggers of 1935," "Wonder Bar," "2nd Street" and a score of other film musicals.

Two famous song writing teams, Warren and Dubin and Dixon and Wrubel, wrote the songs for the Berkeley production numbers. They include "Muchacha," "Lady in Red" and the title song, "In Caliente."

Phil Regan, the radio cop, sings the "Muchacha," which features Dolores in a dance review, and "To Call You My Own," a ballad. Winifred Shaw sings the "Lady in Red," and "In Caliente" is sung by a group of entertainers.

Others in the cast include the famous Dolores, who, as some specialty dancing and "The Canova Family," Dorothy Dare, Luis Alberni, George Hunsby, William Davidson, Harry Holmes, Soledad Jimenez, Herman Bing and Florence Fair.
Lloyd Bacon directed the production from the screen play by Jerry Wald and Julius Epstein, based on an original story by Ralph Block and Warren Duff.

DOMINION

The co-starring of Clive Brook and Madeleine Carroll in "Loves of a Dictator" brings to the screen a glamorous new pair of lovers. Here are two charming personalities who complement each other for screen romance as gloriously as those unrivaled teams of Bushman and Bayne, Garbo and Gilbert.
Clive Brook and Madeleine Carroll are at the Dominion Theatre to-day in "Loves of a Dictator," a Toplit Production presented by G.B. directed by Victor Saville from the screen play by Benn W. Levy.

It is a love story of the 18th Century, opening on the marriage night of the beautiful English Princess to King Christian VII of Denmark. This marriage of state is anything but a success. The Queen bears the King from her room, he leaves in anger for Hamburg and the pleasures that rule his life, leaving his mother to rule. The Queen's mother rules with an iron hand until the King returns from Hamburg with a rather sedate looking Doctor, to whom the young ruler has taken a fancy. Before long the Doctor is the power behind the King... and the Queen's lover! How this situation comes about is the story of "Loves of a Dictator," based on a real, historical romance.

PLAYHOUSE

Samuel Goldwyn always allows himself the privilege of breaking his own inviolate rules.

One of these is that important character players must never be repeated in successive pictures of the same star.

However, Goldwyn felt that the portly, motherly Jessie Ralph, who appeared as the maid, Zoe, in Anna Sten's first Hollywood production, "Nan," offered a happy complement to the youthful loveliness of the star, and fan mail received at the studio indicated that the public was of the same mind.

So, Jessie Ralph is seen as the Nurse Matrona Pavlovna in "We Live Again," Anna Sten's second Goldwyn production, in which she is co-starred with Freddie March, currently at the Playhouse Theatre.

COLUMBIA

What price glory?
Hollywood is famous for its escapology and former dignitaries eking out an existence in the movies. Even current celebrities are sometimes found at the studios, but recently one of the strangest episodes in the annals of pictures came to light.

During the making of Warner Baxter's latest Fox picture, "Hell in the Heavens," showing at the Columbia Theatre, an autographed photo of Baron von Richtofen, famous German war ace, was needed for a scene. Naturally Director John Huston and Producer Al Ruckert wanted the authentic thing. After much scurrying about the property department they discovered that there are but six real personally autographed pictures of Richtofen in the world, and two of them are in Hollywood.

The first owner was approached for the loan of his treasure, but he would not even listen to any proposition. The second was very reluctant. Finally he agreed to lend it for two days' shooting, at $10 per day. No insurance was placed on the picture, because of the inability of the owner to name a proper valuation. It is something that money could never replace.

Two Tour Parties Coming To-morrow

Two parties of visitors will arrive in Victoria on the midday boat from Vancouver to-morrow, both having traveled to Seattle over Northern Pacific Lines.
Twenty-five passengers from the eastern and central United States will be here on the Northern Pacific's "coach tour," in the course of which they are visiting the whole of the Pacific Coast and the middle west.
Coming from Chicago are seventeen members of the Hubbell Tour party, who are touring the Pacific Northwest. They will return to Seattle on the evening boat, after spending four hours visiting Victoria and the neighborhood.

Cobb Shatters Many Records

British Auto Racing Driver in Great Performance on Utah Salt Flats

Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, July 17.—John Cobb, British racing driver, yesterday set an official record of 134.85 miles an hour for twenty-four hours and broke other numerous automobile speed marks during his long grind over the salt bed course.

Official results of his endurance run, which ended at 6:23 a.m. yesterday, were announced by officials of the American Automobile Association and included: Two hundred miles, 146.5; 500 kilometers, 146.80; 300 miles, 147.66; 1,000 kilometers, 148.0; 1,000 miles, 144.9; 2,000 kilometers, 143.5; 2,000 miles, 134.56; 4,000 kilometers, 139.75; 5,000 kilometers, 134.79; three hours, 147.6; six hours, 144.6; twelve hours, 139.84; twenty-four hours, 134.85.

The records are subject to confirmation by the International Sporting Commission.
While Cobb rested from his long run, he was undecided whether he would attempt the world ten-mile record of 168.06 held by Captain Norman Smith. He believed that to be the only mark up to twenty-four hours that he had not bettered.

Ab Jenkins, Utah driver, who set numerous records last year and the year before over the Salt Lake flat course, was the victim in the case of most of Cobb's new records. Jenkins' average time for the twenty-three-hour run last year was 127.22 miles an hour, with a total of 3,093 miles.

Cobb finished the long run at the wheel of his giant twelve-cylinder racer as he had started it, and sent the big machine over the glistening white course at 150 miles an hour.
Jenkins was anxious to take the course in a new racing car which he has been testing, to endeavor to recapture the speed leadership for the United States. If Jenkins or anyone else should succeed in breaking his new records, Cobb said he will return next summer in another try at the salt course.

Wall St. Active and List Trends Higher With Many New Highs

Associated Press

New York, July 17.—The stock market advanced over a broad front today with selected leaders in several groups reaching into new high ground for the first time. While profit taking shaded peaks in a few cases, the main body of stocks was able to close at the day's high. Sales approximated 1,400,000 shares, the largest turnover since June 21.

An advance of two to three cents a bushel in wheat overshadowed other financial and commodity markets. Corn and oats pointed upward along with the principal cereal, but less spectacularly, while cotton was quiet at 15 to 25 cents a bale higher. Bar silver held unchanged at 67 1/2 cents an ounce. Corporate bonds tended during late trading. Leading foreign currencies were about unchanged.

Among shares edging into new high ground for the year during the session were General Motors, Chrysler, Ford, and American International. The latter's advance was maintained by all of them up to the close.

Others ending in the plus column with gains of fractions to a point or so included Douglas Aircraft, U.S. Steel, Johnson & Johnson, American Continental, Continental Can, J. I. Case, Union Carbide, Columbia Carbon, American Telephone, Swift & Co., and Armstrong Cork.

Rails and mining shares were hesitant throughout most of the day but carried picked up near the close when modest buying orders in Union Pacific lifted that stock more than a point. Leading metals ended about even.

Sheep Creek Puts Out a New Issue

A new mining issue now being offered to the public is that of Sheep Creek Consolidated Mines Limited, N.P.L., which has taken over the Bonanza Mine in the Sheep Creek camp, adjoining the holdings of Sheep Creek Gold Mines. The mill on the latter property has been in production since the middle of last month. The new issue of Sheep Creek Consolidated is sponsored by a strong group of brokers throughout the province and the officials say it is meeting with a ready response.

Sheep Creek Consolidated Mines has holdings covering the strike of producing veins operated by Reno Gold, Pawn, Gold Belt, Kootenay Belle and Sheep Creek Gold Companies, the officials state.

On the board of directors of Sheep Creek Consolidated Mines are W. M. Myers, M.E., of Nelson, and W. Ralph Ballantine, superintendent of Boyles Brothers, diamond drillers.

Canadian Press

Toronto, July 17.—The mining section of the Toronto Exchange speeded up a bit to-day.
Bear Exploration and Radium advanced to a net gain of about 5 cents. Carleton and Eldorado were firm to strong on smaller turnover.
Noranda sold up to 38, for a fractional gain and narrow gains were registered for Base Metals Corporation, Big Missouri, Coast Copper and Sheritt Gordon. Falconbridge closed a few cents down.

INDUSTRIALS MART STEADY

Canadian Press
Toronto, July 17.—Industrial shares were inclined to hold steady to-day as a general rule, but strength was definite in the liquor and metal group, and to a moderate extent in the oils. Gains up to 1/4 of a point appeared in the beverages. Steel of Canada common sold at 80, a new high mark for the year.
The liquor group closed higher by 1/4 to 1/2. Walkers common, Distillers, Seagrams and Canadian Industrial Alcohol, all ending in the plus column. Canada Malt and 34 1/2, was up about a half point at the close.
Foods holding to the up side at the close included Westons, Canada Packers and many others. White Western Flour preferred gained a full point.

Tarzan The Untamed

There he saw Sha, the vulture, circling above the bush a mile away, downward. As his yellow-green eyes stared intently at the bird, he saw Sha dive and—

...again to continue his aimless circling. ... movements. Sha knew that on the ground beneath the bird was some dying thing that Sha did not yet dare attack.

Cautiously creeping forward, the panther's keen nostrils soon caught the scent of man. Always before, young Sha avoided the hated presence of a Tarmangani. But of late he had become more accustomed to it, with the passing of many soldiers—

...through his ancient brother's ground. And Sha was hungry. Stalking through the thick bush, presently he was rewarded as his greedy eyes rested gleefully upon the Tarmangani lying face downward in a narrow game trail.

Are Wedding Bells Going Out of Style?

Hopes Women Have Better Sense

A GREAT many people believe that marriage is an outmoded institution and that it will soon take its place along with the ox wagon and the tallow dip among the relics of the past, things that were necessary in their day, but that have served their purpose, in proof whereof they cite the laxness of present-day morals, the disinclination of both men and women to abate one jot or tittle of their freedom, the increase in divorce, the alimony racket and various and sundry other drawbacks to the holy estate.

They even visualize the child of the future as discovering a faded, mildewed document in a hair trunk in the attic, which, Mother explains to him, were Grandma's wedding lines, and when little Peterkin demands to know what they might be, he will be told that it was the record of the oath that Grandpa and Grandma took before God and man to live together until death parted them. Whereupon the innocent lad would exclaim in accents of amazement: "How quaint! And what strange customs they had in those days, didn't they, Nannam?"

Now I am not one of those who share in this pessimistic view of marriage. I do not believe that wedding bells are going to be silenced, and that we are going to be deprived of the beautiful spectacle of beaming lovely brides in shimmering satin and trailing veils and orange blossoms marching to the altar accompanied by their bevy of iridescent maids and matrons. Marriage is here to stay because it is the best arrangement for the association of men and women, the stabilizing of the home and the perpetuation of the species that the combined intelligence and experience of thousands of years has ever been able to devise.

Our cave ancestors, and the animals we were before even that, tried out free love, but it didn't prove satisfactory. Too many fights between hairy giants over some primitive alien with a come-hither look in her eyes. Too many ladies in each other's hair over the theft of a mate who was handy with a stone club and brought in the bacon. Not enough safety for the females and their offspring. And so when humanity rose above the brute and took the place of lust, the idea of marriage was evolved, a definite, permanent arrangement between the sexes for the establishment of a home and the rearing of a family.

It is easy enough to scoff at marriage and point out its many weaknesses. You can say, and with truth, that our emotions are not always under control and that we cannot always make our hearts behave. You can say that many husbands and wives are unfaithful to each other and that the air is filled with the sound and the fury of wrecked homes. Even so, the marriage contract is as binding in matrimony as it is in business. It is a legal paper that a man and woman have signed and sealed and they cannot past it aside lightly or without cause, and it holds many a couple together who would part if they had no tie except their fancies. It is one thing to give up the home you own and another thing to flit out of a rented love-nest.

Those who advocate the abolishing of marriage have two theme songs upon which they harp continually. One is the theme of independence, which one is supposed to have in a lison and not in a marriage. No ball and chain for the free lover. No being bound to some one particular man or woman for a lifetime. No having to go through a messy divorce suit to get rid of a husband or wife of whom you are tired. When your mate has lost his or her allure for you, you just fade out of the picture and that's all there is to it.

But this is a fallacy. For what we get in life we must always pay. A house has to be supported whether it is on Main Street or under the rose. Children have to be reared and launched into life. You cannot turn even a synthetic husband or wife out of the door as you would a dog, and, as many a man has found out to his sorrow, the woman you have ceased to love can become a millstone around your neck.

The other theme song of those opposed to marriage celebrates the delight of being able to swap partners as often as you please. When Mary loses her figure and begins to get middle-aged and John develops a hay window and grows bald; when Maud ceases to thrill you and Percival's kisses lose their flavor, high-ho for a new deal! But is any one foolish enough to think that this would add to the sum of happiness? Who would want to be forever adapting themselves to a new mate? Who would want to go through the strain of continuously studying the technique of how to get along with a new husband or wife and keep off their prejudices and gumshoe around their peculiarities? Who doesn't know that, in reality, a marriage never settles down into real happiness until a husband and wife come to love each other's faults because they are theirs?

Certainly there is no substitute for marriage for women. It is their one safeguard in a world of fickle men, for however a husband may philander, in the end he nearly always comes back to the woman to whom he is legally bound. And, if he doesn't, she at least has a home and a respectable place in society, and alimony.

No, marriage is not doomed. It is still a going concern and it will be as long as women have a grain of sense in their heads.

Uncle Wiggily And Mother Robin

By HOWARD R. GARIS

When the little orphan robin had hatched out of the blue egg in Uncle Wiggily's bungalow kitchen, and when the rabbit gentleman with a shovel was ready to hop out in the yard, his wife asked him again:

"What are you going to do, Wigg?"

"I am going to dig some worms to feed the orphan robin," the rabbit gentleman answered. "I call this robin an orphan," he went on, opening the screen door, "because the egg fell out of the nest. And instead of being hatched by the warmth of its mother's body it hatched the little robin by Nurse Jane's hand."

"Yes, I guess it's an orphan—all right," said Mr. Longears. "But are you sure you should give such a new, tiny baby bird worms to eat?"

"All little robins must eat worms," said Uncle Wiggily. "This little orphan robin is hungry. That's why it opens its mouth so wide and why it makes yip, yip, yip sounds in the box nest behind the store. So I am going out to do the very best I can for it."

UNCLE WIGGILY KNOWS BEST

"Well, you know best, Wigg," said his wife, for she was not like some rabbit lady wives, thinking her husband was always wrong.

"Thank you," said Mr. Longears politely. Then with the shovel he hopped to the garden, where the dirt was soft to dig for worms. Meanwhile, Nurse Jane covered the newly-hatched baby orphan robin with the soft cloth and the fluffy cotton to keep it warm.

Fishing the shovel down into the ground by pressing on it with one paw, Uncle Wiggily turned over the brown earth and then looked amid the lumps for the pink, crawling, writhing worms. He did not turn up any on his first try.

But there is plenty of dirt to turn over," said the rabbit gentleman. "I must get some worms soon, though, if the little baby orphan robin will starve to death."

Again he turned over a shovel full of the brown earth, and looke for pink worms, but none did he see. And when he had done this three or four times, and still found no worms, Uncle Wiggily sadly said:

"Oh, dear!"

"What's the matter?" asked a big Mother Robin sitting up in a tree where Mr. Longears was digging in his garden.

"Worms! Worms!" chattered the little Wiggily.

"I can't find any worms," said the rabbit gentleman. "I've been digging and digging and digging."

"No! I have noticed," chirped the Mother Robin. "But I didn't know you ate carrots and lettuce."

"Mother Robin's Little Bird"

"Oh, I didn't want the worms for myself," laughed Mr. Longears. "I want them for a little baby orphan robin that was just hatched out of a blue egg in my bungalow. I found the egg in the woods. It had fallen from a nest. But Nurse Jane sent it warm near our water boiler and it hatched."

"Oh goodness!" chirped the Mother Robin. "I wonder if you have my little bird?"

"One day an egg fell out of my nest and the wind blew it away. This may be my little bird you have."

"I hope it is," said the rabbit gentleman. "If it is, you may know how to get some worms for it as I can't seem to dig any."

"I'll soon get a worm," chirped the Mother Robin. She flew down to the ground. She hopped along and ran
